SINGAPORE GIVES JAPS INDIA KEY

Tokyo (Jap Broadcasts)

Feb. 16 (AP)

ENEMY REPORT

Japan celebrated the conquest of Singapore today as a tremendous achievement giving her armed forces the key to India and Australia and virtual control over vital supply routes to embattled China.

Even an official warning that the war is still far from won and that great struggles lie ahead failed to dampen rejoicing over the blow to British prestige and to Allied strategy in the Pacific.

Japanese forces entered the fallen city at 8 a. m. today behind a vanguard of tanks, Domei News Agency announced.

The official announcement of the fall of the citadel over which the British flag had waved for 123 years said the surrender had been complete and unconditional.

Domei, in a dispatch today from Singapore, said British forces in Singapore at the time of the surrender numbered 60,000 men.

MILLION IN SINGAPORE

"These troops included campaigning forces, fortress guards and volunteers made up of 15,000 of the British metropolitan forces, 15,000 Australians and the remainder Indians," it said.

"There are a million inhabitants still in Singapore, including 100,000 British."

It was announced that 1000 members of the British garrison would serve as an auxiliary police force to maintain order until Japanese troops could complete their occupation.

The remainder of the garrison laid down its arms at 10 o'clock last night and the Japanese said the captives would be marched off at once to prison camps.

Japanese naval authorities, meanwhile, announced that they immediately occupied all the British naval and coastal defense bases of Singapore, after an agreement for their transfer reached by British and Japanese officers at Ft. Canine.

Domei said: "A decision was reached concerning the disposal of British warships remaining in Singapore ports."

"The dispatch did not indicate what that decision was or what warships remained at Singapore."

Admiral Shigetaro Shimada, navy minister, told Parliament Japanese submarines already were operating

Official Dispatch

Savagely battered Japanese troops today captured Palembang, rich oil center of southern Sumatra.

Allied planes, however, inflicted "great devastation" on the thousands of invaders who swept aside strong Dutch resistance.

Two Japanese cruisers and five crowded transports were blasted with direct hits by American, Dutch and British planes striking in the Bangka straits. One of the cruisers was set afire.

Bitter fighting continued unabated in the Palembang region and the Dutch were inflicting heavy casualties, a supplementary communique of the high command said.

"Our losses in aircraft and men are not yet known, but it can be taken for granted that they are considerably lower than the extent of this large operation would make us expect," the official report added.

After the battered Japanese invasion fleet entered the Musi river, troops swiftly transferred to all kinds of small craft, sloop, motor boats and rowboats. They sailed into various rivers and creeks as low-flying Allied planes "played maddening havoc."

Parachute troops billowed from the air to open the drive, but by Saturday evening troops garrisoned in and about Palembang had the situation well in hand. Most of the estimated 700 marauders lay dead by the time destruction was started in the oil fields.

DESTROY OIL

Anticipating the invasion of the 1000-mile-long island, the Dutch applied the torch yesterday to the vast oil fields and installations which supply half the East Indies oil.

A black pall of smoke from flaming tanks of petroleum, refineries, docks and other buildings hung over the battle areas. The damage, said to be the greatest ever deliberately inflicted by man on his own property, probably exceeded $100,000,000 and represented the overnight destruction of decades of patient building by the colonists.

The main force of the seaborne Japanese invasion seemed directed from the huge squat island of Borneo which lies to the northeast. Borneo's rim has been occupied almost completely by the Japanese. It appeared possible that some troops might also have been released from the battle of Singapore.

BOMB NEW GUINEA

Japanese planes far to the east bombed a small place in New Guinea for an hour, killing four civilians and wounding five others. Government buildings and houses suffered great damage. Other enemy planes fanned out on reconnaissance.

Willemstad, Curacao, Dutch West Indies

Feb. 16 (AP)

In the first land attack of the war on the Western Hemisphere, an enemy submarine shelled oil installations today on the United States-garrisoned Dutch West Indies Island of Aruba, about 700 miles from the Panama Canal, and sank three tankers off its coast.

A fourth tanker was also torpedoed and badly damaged near the harbor of Willemstad, Curacao, 75 miles east, but did not sink, Aneta news agency announced.

OFFICIAL NEWS

Both islands, sites of the largest and second largest oil refineries in the world, are guarded by American troops co-operating with the Dutch in their defense.

Aneta said only slight damage was done to the refinery of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, target of the submarine's shells on Aruba, and there were no casualties on the island.

The number of casualties among the tanker crews was not learned immediately.

One person was slightly injured on the vessel hit in Willemstad harbor.

THOUSANDS IN REFINERY

Aruba lies less than 20 miles off Venezuela's Paragana peninsula and is east northeast of the Panama Canal.

The refinery on Aruba, largest in the world, had a normal capacity of more than 250,000 barrels of crude oil a day and employed about 5000 workers in peacetime. The second largest refinery in the Dutch islands is on Curacao.

It is 75 miles from Oranjestad, oil port of Aruba, to Willemstad, on Curacao.

(These Caribbean islands refine high-octane aviation fuel, important to the United Nations' war effort and defense of the Western Hemisphere. Recently the Lago Co., the Standard Oil subsidiary on Aruba, announced plans for expansion of aviation gasoline facilities and construction of a $10,000,000 "cracking" plant.)

British Marines landed in Curacao in 1940 to help Dutch authorities protect the oil refineries.

U. S. TROOPS THERE

The United States State Department announced on Feb. 11 that United States troops of unstated number had been sent to Aruba and Curacao at the request of the Netherlands government to operate under the direction of the Governor of Curacao.

Aruba's area is about 70 square miles. Curacao's harbor near by has long been an important shipping center, with many tankers calling to load Venezuelan oil refined there for the eastern U. S. seaboard and other markets.

The United States troops were sent to the islands because the Netherlands government feared Germany might attempt to synchronize a stab at the West Indies with a Japanese offensive in the East Indies.

The step was approved by Venezuela.

Previously, in November, the United States sent troops to Dutch Guinea, the South American mainland of the Netherlands, southeast of Aruba.

GUNS, PLANES BLASTING AT M'ARTHUR

Washington

Feb. 16 (INS)

U. S. OFFICIAL

By JOSEPH A. BORS

Renewal of heavy enemy artillery fire on the Bataan peninsula today indicated the Japanese apparently are attempting to blast Gen. Douglas MacArthur's lines in preparation for the anticipated grand land assault now that Singapore has fallen.

In one of the briefest communications in recent weeks, the War Department reported only intermittent artillery fighting, but spoke "significantly of enemy aviation being 'active throughout the day.'"

A large scale renewal of artillery fire and Japanese bombing activities has been anticipated ever since the downfall of Singapore became imminent.

Military experts have predicted for some time that MacArthur's position will become extremely critical when the enemy moves adequate planes and heavy batteries for a concerted onslaught against the defenders on the Bataan peninsula and the American-held forts across Manila Bay.

While the communique did not mention possible American counter fire, MacArthur's forces in the past have withheld their batteries until they were certain of the enemy positions.

RAF Blasts Port Of St. Nazaire

LONDON, Feb. 16 (AP)—British bombers blasted at docks in the German-occupied French port of St. Nazaire last night, the air ministry announced today, and observers expressed belief the raiders were seeking out destroyers and other light craft which accompanied the Nazi battleships Scharnhorst and Gneisenau on their spectacular dash through the English channel Thursday.

These sources said it was highly possible that the escort vessels had returned to St. Nazaire after the channel foray. The port also is known as a base for German submarines operating in the Atlantic.

BURMA ROAD BASE IS AIM OF NEW PUSH

Rangoon

Feb. 16 (AP)

Official Dispatch

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Two Jap columns, supported by dive bombers and machine-gunning fighter planes, drove perilously close to Thaton today in a drive to choke off supplies to China over the winding Burma road.

Thaton is only 50 miles southwest of Pegu, important rail center on the Rangoon-Mandalay and Rangoon-Maritaban lines, and it appeared that the invaders were aiming at the junction city. The fall of Pegu would cut the railway feeding the Burma road.

(A London military commentator said the fighting was "obscure" and that Thaton might now be in Japanese hands.)

Japanese spearheads converged on Thaton from Paan, 12 miles to the east, and from Martaban at the mouth of the Salween river, the now-shattered first line of defense.

YANK FLIERS IN FIGHT

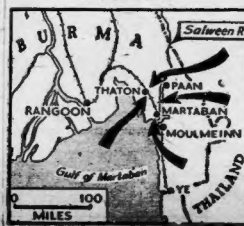

American and British planes made exhaustive efforts to punish the enemy wherever his supply lines were exposed. The battleground was only 85 bomber miles from Rangoon and 125 miles by land and rail around the tide-swept gulf of Martaban.

Rangoon newspapers complained of the "lack of objective information" and constantly changing descriptions of the "fighting" given by British army communiques.

They said one day the position was called quiet and the next day evacuation of an important locality was disclosed.

The chief Japanese threat appeared to be developing in the vicinity of Duiyinzek, six miles east

LA GUARDIA HUB GUEST FOR BIG BLACKOUT TEST

Mayor F. H. LeGuardia of New York, who has resigned from the Office of Civilian Defense, but who still is interested in problems of air raid protection, will arrive here by plane tomorrow to view Boston's blackout—from the air, if he so desires.

The blackout committee today reserved a special plane for him and other officials, including Paul V. Betters, secretary of the U. S. Mayors' Conference—in addition to an aircraft already set aside for the press.

LaGuardia is expected to arrive at East Boston airport at about 9:30 p. m., only a half-hour before the blackout begins.

An Army plane will be waiting there to take him aloft again, if he wishes, or, if not, he will be whisked to Suffolk courthouse, where the mayor and others will view the spectacle.

The 12th floor courthouse balcony will be the vantage point from which the mayor, Gov. Saltonstall, the City Council, Joseph Laughlin, regional director of civilian defense, sundry other officials and mayors of 39 Massachusetts cities will watch proceedings.

Gen. Daniel H. Needham, head of the protection division of the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety, is another who will watch the blackout from the air. His

I have just reached Batavia aboard the last ship to clear the debris-choked harbor of what for 123 years was the British empire's greatest Far Eastern bastion. I made the pier, as a matter of fact, in the last available car in Singapore.

The courage of Singapore women, children and civilians under shellfire during the evacuation is written imperishably on the minds of those who witnessed it. The behavior of children particularly during constant shelling and bombing and machine-gunning attacks hour after hour can never be forgotten.

BURN ALL INFORMATION

Singapore was left behind in a pall of smoke. There were fires not only from bombs and shells but also those set by government employees, who put to the torch every paper and document that could be of the slightest use to the enemy.

As I left, all government departments were having a grand bonfire. It all added to the dense clouds of smoke which choked the throats and stung the eyes of everyone.

Singapore's last hours found the defending troops unable to dig trenches for a last-ditch stand. The terrain was such that all became flooded immediately, and the imperial forces could only attempt to maintain a zig-zag line through houses and gardens. They had no cover.

FAMOUS PLACES SHELLED

The Japanese were attacking along a perimeter about four miles from the center of the town as I left. Down Orchard rd., where every visitor to Singapore has dined at famous Cyrene's, shells were burst in a rising crescendo.

Small enemy detachments were filtering in through the Botanical Gardens three miles to the north, while others were pushing through the Tanglin district. When it was useless to stay longer, I found a place aboard a car which raced pell-mell for the dock.

Even under such tension there were the usual groups of friends massed at the quayside to say farewell to those able to go. Soldiers and civilians cheered as our convoy swung into the channel in the face of bombs and machine-gun fire from Japanese planes.

The courage of the evacuees aboard was magnificent. But most remarkable for his coolness was our captain, who stayed on the bridge for 12 hours without a break. His pet and constant mascot, a dog called Mike, was with him.

Most of the way across the Strait of Singapore we were attacked by the enemy. One constant strafing lasted for five hours.

During this shattering attack by 64 bombers, the captain swung his ship from side to side to escape the bombs and the fact is that we dodged death by seconds.

Below, four Australian nurses toiled for hours tending to the wounded, while on the docks Royal Air Force men lined the rails with Lewis, Bren, tommy guns and rifles to take not shots at the attackers.

Our decks were flooded continually to avoid fire from incendiary bombs. It was unbelievable how hundreds of women and children packed in the ship kept calm and handled casualties as if they were victims of street accidents.

So now we are in Batavia. But 60,000 Imperial troops still are on the island of Singapore, and there are countless civilians. The island simply could no longer be held.

BUY BONDS FOR BOMBERS

$10,000 FOR BOMBERS
FROM BUILDING HELP;
$2,937,526 PLEDGED

Boston Evening American Photo

$10,000 MORE—Filling out the check that will buy $10,000 worth of defense bonds—and aid the Buy-a-Bomber drive—is Anna May Aylward, secretary-treasurer of Local 30, Building Service Employees Union, AFL, while John C. Hutchinson, business agent, looks on.

The men and women who keep your buildings running in Boston laid $10,000 on the line today in the sweeping BUY A BOMBER drive being conducted by the Boston Daily Record-American-Sunday Advertiser in co-operation with the Treasury Department.

It was another $10,000 aerial torpedo voted for allocation to the BOMBER FUND by Local 30, Building Service Employees Union, AFL, whose headquarters are at 465 Stuart st.

Their contribution boosted the total to $2,937,526 in this drive to BUY BOMBERS WITH DEFENSE STAMPS AND BONDS and thus to STRIKE FOR FREEDOM.

Notification of the $10,000 allocation was given the BUY-A-BOMBER EDITOR at 5 Winthrop sq., Boston, in a letter from Luke Taylor, president of the union organization.

VOTE THE WORKS

"At a regular meeting of Local No. 30, Building Service Employees Union of Boston," he wrote, "it was voted that we purchase $10,000 worth of Defense Bonds, in conjunction with your patriotic campaign to 'BUY BONDS FOR BOMBERS'."

"Your campaign was also endorsed by the membership, numbering over 300.

"As president of this organization I wish to congratulate the Record-American and Sunday Advertiser for their fine, patriotic spirit in conducting such a drive.

"Here's hoping that Massachusetts will be able to place scores of bombers on the air fields of the United States' armed forces and that the campaign will go way over the top."

"Every organized body of men and women in this commonwealth should get behind the bomber drive and, both personally and with their organization funds, invest in defense savings stamps and bonds, which to us of the Building Service Employees Union appear to be the best investment in America today."

NEWSIE BOOSTS TOTAL

No less heartily did a single individual do his part today in the BUY A BOMBER campaign, and his investment loomed as large to him as the $10,000 does to the building service men and women.

Melvin Goldstein, a Record-American newsboy at Morton st. and Blue Hill ave., Mattapan, came into from his stand, and at the Summer st. offices of the First National Bank, the newsie purchased a $25 Defense Savings Bond to be counted in the fund.

The newsboy notified the BUY-A-BOMBER EDITOR that he had allocated his purchase to the campaign.

Thus did Goldstein raise the total of the fund to $2,937,526, inching it nearer to that three million mark—the price for which a dozen of America's largest bombers can be put into the air to STRIKE FOR FREEDOM in the name of Massachusetts, which has always

4 Civic, Church Chiefs List in Draft Here

Outstanding figures in government, business, religion, the entertainment world and just plain "John Does" today registered their willingness to serve their country as men between 20 and 45 enrolled for selective service.

Mayor Maurice J. Tobin was among the prominent persons in Boston civic life registering today. Council President Thomas E. Linnahan enrolled earlier.

SIGNED UP YESTERDAY

Lieut.-Col. Ralph M. Smith, assistant State director of selective service, said registrations today were "light" since most eligibles signed up yesterday. He could give no estimate of the number enrolled. Smith said, however, that Greater Boston would account for more than half of the Massachusetts total registration.

The third draft was carried out with little excitement. Unofficial estimates of the number enrolled Sunday ran as high as 75 per cent of the expected total.

Today's listings, taken at schools throughout the Commonwealth, included veterans of World War I, many accompanied by their sons. At Faneuil Hall, a long line waited patiently, some solemnly discussing the war, others joking and laughing about the prospect of army life. All were united, however, on "wanting a whack at the Japs."

Louis Bazner, 36-year-old able seaman of New York city, who said he was sailing soon for a foreign port with war materials, said he was ready to fight for freedom any time.

"I've been all over the world since the war started," he said. "People everywhere are ready to

Employers—Give 'Em Time to Enroll

With about 75 per cent already registered in the new draft, government and private employers today were urged to give employees still unregistered time off to enroll between the hours of 7 a. m. and 8 p. m.

There are nine simple questions to be answered. They included name, residence, mailing address if other than place of residence, telephone, age and date of birth, place of birth, name and address of nearest relative, employer's name and address of employment.

do what's necessary to stop these crazy guys."

Another seafaring man, James Michael, 40, of San Francisco, took honors as the registrant farthest from home. An engineer, he said he had a brother in Manila and a sister-in-law in Honolulu, and he wanted "a shot at the Japs for what they've done in those places."

While registration proceeded steadily today, the real surprise was the mighty Sunday turnout which had officials calling out additional school teachers for the jobs, as well as more registration cards and certificates.

Just what it all will mean was not entirely decided yet. But this is how most experts predicted Uncle Sam would eventually settle on his draft manpower.

PUSHING THOUSANDS

Right now draft boards are going through the first and second drafts and pushing forward thousands who previously were deferred because of bad eyes, bad teeth and dependents.

When this big reservoir is used up it is expected the new registrants between the ages of 20 and 21 will be called. The Army wants youth and will do all it can to get it.

Next will probably come the 36-year-olds, to be followed by those 37, and so on until—if necessary—the Army will dip all the way into the ranks of those 45.

The drawing for the new draft will come sometime about the middle of March. The numbers will start at 10,000, so as not to become confused with the numbers in the previous draft lotteries.

TOBIN FOES PRESS FIGHT FOR OUSTER

The five citizens who are fighting to oust Mayor Tobin on grounds of alleged corrupt practices today declared they "will move heaven and earth, if necessary, to bring our case to trial" as they awaited decision on their appeal to Supreme Court from the order by three Superior Court judges dismissing their petition.

Miss Marian Clarke Nichols presided at a meeting of over 200 supporters of the ouster movement in Hotel Brunswick at which election of judges was urged.

Speakers pointed out 41 States now elect judges and that Massachusetts is one of three States giving life appointments. Term appointments are made in the remaining four, it was stated.

Targets of attack by the speakers included Mayor Tobin, Fire Commr. William Arthur Reilly, Tobin campaign manager, and City Treasurer John J. McCarthy, campaign treasurer for Tobin.

In a general discussion of the petition it was claimed the ouster request was signed by seven persons before expiration of the statutory time limit, including the five originally granted permission by Judge Brogan.

Neither former Governor Curley nor former Lieut.-Gov. Francis E. Kelly attended the session. In addition to Miss Nichols, the speakers included Atty. Albert West, Edward C. Monahan, stock broker; Mrs. Ethel Williams, civic leader, and Albert McCulloch, South Boston businessman, all signers of the petition.

35,000-Ton Alabama Launched in Virginia

PORTSMOUTH, Va., Feb. 16 (AP)—Secretary of Navy Frank Knox hailed the launching of the 35,000-ton battleship Alabama here today—nine months ahead of schedule—as the end of the “defense era” and the beginning of a “war era.”

“And ships will pour from our yards in ever increasing quantities; ships which bring us supremacy at sea; ships which will bring us victory,” the secretary said.

The Alabama, the sixth battleship to be launched under the defense building program, and the last of a class of four which includes the Massachusetts, the Indiana, and the South Dakota, has improvements over her sister ships, some of which have already joined the fleet, Secretary Knox revealed.

WEIGHT DECREASED
The use of welding and other means in the $30,000,000 Alabama, he said, have so decreased her structural weight as to add considerably to her capacity for guns, armor and ammunition.

Gov. Frank M. Dixon of Alabama, heading a large delegation from his state, declared the great battleship carries with her “the hearts and hopes of all free men and women on earth today.”

Mrs. Lester Hill, wife of Alabama's junior U. S. Senator, was the sponsor.

Gov. Dixon was introduced by Gov. Colgate Darden of Virginia, an old school mate at the University of Virginia.

Secretary Knox, who revealed that the keel of the 45,000-ton battleship Kentucky would be laid almost immediately in the same ways from which the Alabama was launched, recalled that less than two months ago he saw the battleship Indiana glide into the James river at Newport News.

BURDEN ON NAVY
“When I spoke at Newport News late in November, I remarked that ‘no one can say when the actions of our avowed enemies may drag us into complete belligerence. But should that day come, the burden upon our Navy will be the greatest in our history.’ Only a few days later came the treacherous attack on Pearl Harbor.

“We must protect our coastal commerce. We must protect these strategic areas to our defense—Hawaii, the Panama Canal, the Caribbean. We must defend our good neighbors to the southward.

“We must check as best we can the surging flood of Japanese aggression in the Antipodes, until we can muster our forces to send it hurtling back to whence it came. These activities girdle three-fourths of the globe.

“As you all know, in the Navy an ‘E’ awarded to a ship is a symbol of efficiency and excellence in gunnery and engineering. I have just been informed that the Navy board of awards has granted the Norfolk Navy Yard the Navy ‘E’ pennant for outstanding work on ship construction.”

In conclusion the secretary said the Alabama carried with her a great name and a great tradition.

Hub Set for Blackout Test Tomorrow Night

plane was arranged for through the First Interceptor Command.

BUSES, CARS WILL STOP
Today 2000 placards and posters were placed in buses, street cars and subway stations, explaining what to do in the blackout. Surface cars and buses will turn out their lights and stop when the siren sounds.

Subway trains will do likewise. If on the surface, or, if underground, proceed to the nearest station and disembark passengers. Last minute blackout instructions and pleas for observing them will be broadcast tonight between 6:15 and 6:30 over Station WBZ by Joseph Laughlin, J. W. Farley, state director of public safety, and John J. Walsh, Boston public safety head.

A similar broadcast will be made tomorrow night by Gov. Saltonstall, Mayor Tobin and Walsh.

Meanwhile, all was in readiness for the signal that tomorrow night at 10—with a few exceptions—will plunge Boston into total darkness. In addition to the Courthouse and United Shoe Machinery Building, sirens have been established at the New England Mutual Life Insurance Building, Boylston t.; Fire Alarm headquarters, Eristol st.; Sears Roebuck Co. building, Brookline ave.; East Boston high school; the Warren School, Charlestown; the Winship School, Brighton; Roxbury Memorial high school; the Mather School, Meeting House Hill; Dorchester; Dorchester High School for Boys; Jamaica Plain high school; Roslindale high school; the William Barton Rogers school, Hyde Park; and one in an undecided place in West Roxbury.

The air raid signal for the blackout, an alternating low-to-high-note siren signal, will be sounded simultaneously over the 15 sets of loudspeakers throughout the city at exactly 10 p. m. The length of time the signal will continue its warning note is yet to be decided.

Tons of Food Sent 'Collect' To Pitcairn

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16 (AP)

—Someone sent 27 tons of food to Pitcairn Island, but it left the islanders somewhat bewildered.

In the first place they weren't starving. In the second place the cargo was sent collect.

The story was told in a letter received by Mrs. Kathryn Greenwood from Miss Lucy Christian, a direct descendant of Fletcher Christian, leader of the mutiny on the Bounty.

The food arrived on a freighter from Fiji, Miss Christian related. The islanders spent an entire day taking the food to shore, a distance of 2½ miles.

When all was ashore the captain presented his bill. Pitcairn's residents couldn't pay; so they placed the food in storage. Much of it will spoil. Included were 200 sacks of wheat, which cannot be kept long in the muggy climate.

F.D. Hails Canadians On Big Victory Loan

OTTAWA, Feb. 16 (AP)—Joining high Canadian officials in launching Canada's second victory loan of $600,000,000 President Roosevelt declared there was "peril ahead for us all, and sorrow for many," but that "our cause is right, our goal is worthy, our strength is great and growing."

The American Chief Executive's address was broadcast from a recording made by him in Washington.

PRAISES WAR EFFORT

Praising Canada's war effort and asserting America was "proud to be your neighbors," the President said the United Nations would "fight and work and endure together until our common purpose is accomplished."

Recalling America-Canadian mutual pledges of support four years ago, he said these were being implemented and the two countries were now joined with the other free peoples of the world "against an armed conspiracy to wipe out free institutions wherever they exist."

"Freedom—our freedom and yours—is under attack on many fronts," he asserted. "You and we together are engaged to resist the attack on any front where our strength can best be brought to bear."

He said that if Canada's war effort were to be measured in dollars, the Dominion already would have paid out, in two years, more than twice its expenditures in the whole four years of the last war.

STRENGTH GROWS

Moreover, he said, reports showed that one Canadian in every 21 was now in the fighting forces and one in every 29 was a volunteer for service anywhere in the world. Canada's army had increased tenfold, its navy fifteenfold, and air force twenty-fivefold, he said, adding its air training program was now the main source of reinforcements for the RAF and its graduates were fighting on almost every front in the world.

Canadian Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King said the victory loan was being launched at a time when "the fate of mankind hangs in the balance."

"From ever continent and from every ocean, the call comes for more planes, more tanks, more munitions, more ships, more food, more men," the Prime Minister said. "It is a call to every individual to make the utmost personal contribution in that form of service for which he or she is best fitted."

After emphasizing the seriousness of the war situation, King said:

"Whether world chaos will follow in the wake of universal destruction, or world security will be established, will depend upon the contribution of every nation still possessing freedom."

Fourth Firebug Blaze Arouses Attleboro

ATTLEBORO, Feb. 16—Fire and police departments today threw all their resources into the search for an arsonist after the fourth incendiary fire in a 36-hour period.

The outbreak included a blaze in the vestry of St. John's Catholic Church on Main st. Other fires which promptly were discovered and extinguished included blazes at the Ideal Bakery on Park st., rubbish at the Hoffman Block on Park st. and in a garage nearby.

All the fires occurred in the downtown district in a comparatively small area.

BEGIN OUSTING OF COAST FOE ALIENS

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16 (AP)—Hundreds of enemy aliens, the vanguard of many thousands yet to be moved, were cleared from California's key military and industrial areas over the week-end.

They were residents of 69 restricted zones for which the government had set an evacuation deadline of last midnight.

Federal authorities, searching the areas for possible stragglers, said the removal was without incident. Any enemy aliens found in the zones now will be subject to internment until the end of the war.

THOUSANDS TO GO

Even as the first exodus was being completed, government men looked to Washington for guidance in carrying out further orders for the removal of thousands of other aliens from prohibited zones in California by Feb. 24.

Tom C. Clark, western co-ordinator of enemy alien control, left for Washington after indicating that the Army and Navy were not satisfied with measures taken so far.

He said a modified kind of martial law, permitting the removal of scores of thousands of aliens and many of their American-born children, might be adopted to clear California, Washington and Oregon coastal areas of persons considered undesirable by the Army and Navy.

TOTAL RUNS HIGH

Clark estimated there were 33,500 Japanese, 71,700 alien Germans, and 100,000 alien Italians in the prohibited areas of California.

"The biggest danger from alien Japanese is their espionage menace—what they might see and hear and pass on to others to do our enemies the most good," Clark said.

"For that reason, I believe alien Japanese and possibly many American-born Japanese should be located in some centralized area, perhaps in California, but well away from where they see what is going on."

An even more drastic attitude was taken by the mayors and councilmen's section of the League of California Cities, which adopted a resolution favoring the ouster of all Japanese, foreign or native-born, from California.

221 MILLIONS TO FIGHT SPIES, TRAIN U. S. FLIERS

By GRIFFING BANCROFT

International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Warned by Secretary of State Hull that war problems "are going to become more and more difficult as time goes on," the House appropriations committee today voted to increase the civilian pilot training program to develop a reservoir of 49,500 new citizen-fliers a year.

At the same time the committee, warmly praising the patriotism of penitentiary inmates for greatly increasing their industrial output since the war, made public testimony that prison and military officials are working out a program under which many prisoners will be paroled for service in the armed forces.

Granting the Federal Bureau of Investigation $21,000,000 for anti-espionage and sabotage work, the committee formally exonerated the FBI for the Pearl Harbor tragedy, asserting:

"Its agents diligently obtained vital information which was placed in the hands of responsible military and naval authorities in ample time to have been of valuable assistance had it been needed."

BIDDLE WARNED OF PLOTS

The developments came as the group reported out a $221,069,700 supply bill for the Departments of State, Justice and Commerce and the federal judiciary. The measure was increased $13,000,000 above budget estimates to step up civilian pilot training, but was $150,000,000 below last year's spending because nothing has been asked yet this year for development of air fields by the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

In speeding the measure to the floor, the committee made public testimony of officials of the departments concerned which disclosed:

1.—A statement by Atty.-Gen. Biddle on Jan. 13, before the fire in New York on the S. S. Normandie: "We have to have a better system of guarding docks against possible sabotage of vessels, and we need closer cooperation and organization work from the Army, Navy and civil authorities."

2.—Testimony of State Department officials that the United States, Great Britain and the Dutch "have abandoned all formalities concerning ownership" and are now co-operating in getting vital rubber stocks out of dangerous zones in the Far East.

PAN-AMERICAN AID VITAL

3.—A declaration by Hull that "Western Hemisphere solidarity is not a meaningless phrase, but a vital reality." After hearing Co-ordinator of Inter-American Affairs Nelson A. Rockefeller complain that to date special interest groups in New York have been dealing solely with each other without any broad coordination, the committee granted him $1,700,000 and urged that Spanish and Portuguese be taught in American schools and English in Latin America.

4.—Assurance from Hull that the State Department is "a militant part of our fighting forces, combating vigorously the efforts of the Axis powers to gain support for their cause." Hull also said that post-war planning already is going on full speed, and other officials said that "in time of war we must prepare for peace."

5.—Testimony that the State Department now has 258 posts throughout the world gathering vital political and military information, and plans quickly to establish nine more—at Tabriz, Iran; Accra, British West Africa; St. Lucia, British West Indies; Salina Cruz, Mexico; Asmara, Eritrea; Loanda, Africa; Kabul, Afghanistan; Arquipa, Peru, and Caripita, Venezuela.

WIFE VANISHES WHILE HUBBY PARKS CAR

One of the weirdest disappearance cases on record in Greater Boston had police searching today for Mrs. Marion Riker, 35, of Sycamore lane, Hingham, who dropped from sight in the few minutes that her husband was parking his car at the rear of a Weymouth restaurant.

The husband, Harold J. Riker, told police his wife was in a jovial mood and anxious to enter the restaurant for dinner when he left her at the door of the establishment and drove to a parking space in back.

She had dropped from sight when he returned. Riker searched the restaurant without finding a trace of her. Employees acquainted with Mrs. Riker said she had not entered.

Riker notified the police and soon authorities in Weymouth, Hingham, Quincy and other South Shore communities had taken up the search. An appeal was made by telytype to departments throughout Greater Boston to assist.

The missing woman's description was broadcast as follows:

Height, 5 feet 1 inch; weight, 135 pounds; light complexion, blonde hair, blue eyes. She wore a light blue coat with fox fur collar, blue polka dot dress, light stockings and black shoes.

Gungirl's Pal Held in $14,000

NEW BEDFORD, Feb. 16.—While his girl friend was reported held in New York for illegal possession of firearms, Arthur Rodriguez, 28, was arraigned on robbery charges here today and held in $14,000 for the June term of the grand jury by Judge Walter Conside.

Police said the girl, 21-year-old Beverly Hammond, married and the mother of one child, fled to New York after defaulting bail, following her arrest with Rodriguez on a morals charge three weeks ago.

When arrested in an East Side rooming house she was found in possession of three guns. Charged with violation of the New York state Sullivan arms law, she was held without bail for a hearing Thursday.

Rodriguez was charged with robbery of the Louis slushship agency in which $950 was taken, and robbery of $133 from the Nathan Pink liquor store, both in New Bedford.

He, too, was arrested in New York, where he waived extradition and was brought here without delay.

AUSTRALIA MOBILIZES TO MEET ATTACK

SYDNEY, Australia, Feb. 16 (AP)—Prime Minister John Curtin declared today that "everything we have, everything which belongs to us must now be mobilized" for the Battle of Australia, as a result of Singapore's fall.

The attitude of the government is that a Japanese attack on the Commonwealth—a large scale attack from air and sea which may break at any moment—has become inevitable.

The full cabinet will assemble here tomorrow, and Parliament is due to assemble at Canberra this week.

Secret moves decided upon some weeks ago on the expectation that Singapore might not be held, among them big movements of troops and aircraft, already are being carried out.

Further attempts to procure urgently needed essential materials from the United States and Great Britain are certain to be made by the government.

SOCIAL PLANS SEEN TIED TO WAR CONDUCT

By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN

Special to Boston Evening American

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16—There is a certain sense of shocked bewilderment in Washington which constitutes a remarkable phenomenon—until one begins to analyze the cause.

This is not smugness, nor is it apathy or complacency. These things exist only among the political panhandlers of the New Deal who see in the war a clincher for social reforms.

The bewilderment grows out of something wholly alien in American history. Heretofore we have gone to war under our own flag and under our own name, but we are fighting this one under the alias of "United Nations" instead of our good old monicker, the United States.

UNDER FOREIGN LEADERS

For the first time in American history, also, the American Army and our Naval forces are not being commanded by Americans, but are under the command of foreign generals and admirals.

This may be regarded by the political strategists in Washington who have "planned it that way" as necessary, and this is not to argue that it is not.

It is not to deny that it is not inspirational, to say the least? The enthusiasm of Americans for the heroic defense of Bataan proves the magic of a commander's name, fighting under the flag of his country.

OTHERS LIKE McARTHUR

General McArthur is an able and brilliant commander in the best American tradition.

It is no disparagement of him, however, to say that he is not the only able and brilliant general that our Army has produced. Fortunately we have a number of them, and the time will come when we begin carrying the burden of winning the war—and that time is coming and is now being awaited by our Allies—when we shall have to put our own military brains in command.

Another thing which causes bewilderment in Washington is the constant emphasis that is being placed on the remaking of the world at the conclusion of the war.

WARNS OF "UNION NOW"

Lord Halifax said in his Lincoln Day address that the partnership between the United States and Britain must be maintained indefinitely in the future.

This is singularly like the idea of "union now" which is ebullient to millions of Americans including those of English descent, but which has recently been endorsed by a member of the Supreme Court and a member of the Cabinet. The British ambassador is not rendering good service to either country by harping on this theme.

There is considerable apprehension in Washington lest the "United Nations" will imperceptibly merge into the idea of a permanent union between the United States and the British Empire.

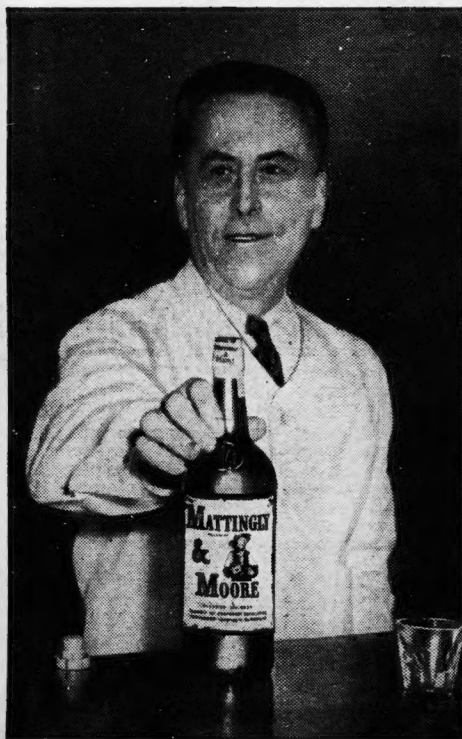

As for plans for making over the world after the war, let us first catch the rabbit. There is grave danger that those who are concentrating now on this idea will unconsciously influence the conduct of the war to meet the social objectives they have in view.

There is but one true objective now, to win this war.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, MONDAY, FEB. 16, 1943

JOHN E. WARNER, FOREMOST HAIR AND SCALP SPECIALIST OF TODAY, AFFORDS EVERY MAN THREATENED WITH BALDNESS THE OPPORTUNITY TO STOP BALDNESS AT ITS SOURCE AND SAVE HIS HAIR

John E. Warner and Lou Holtz, world renowned radio and stage comedian, who says: "Warner hair and scalp treatments are tops—on tops." Naturally, a well groomed appearance is vitally necessary to anyone appearing before the public, and Lou Holtz, funny man to millions of people, is very serious about keeping his hair. He assures himself of healthy hair and scalp by consultations and treatments with John E. Warner and Associates. Lou Holtz in his travels throughout the country is John E. Warner's No. 1 booster.

THOUSANDS OF FAMOUS PEOPLE ACCLAIM WONDERFUL RESULTS OF WARNER SYSTEM

BOSTON, Feb. 15 (J.W.)—Celebrities from all over the nation have consulted John Warner regarding the proper care of their hair and scalp. Amongst the famous people who have consulted John Warner are Lou Holtz, Gene Krupa, Orrin Tucker, Vincent Lopez, Lyle Talbot, Glen Gray, Eric Rhodes, Ranny Weeks, Ella Logan, Red Nichols, Jack Teagarden, Frankie Masters, Helen Twelvetrees, Victor Arden, Ben Blue, Al Donahue, Tommy Tucker, Harry James, Alvino Rey, Joe E. Lewis, Hal Le Roy, Jack Pearl, and many others.

Famous Maestro Thanks Warner

BOSTON, Feb. 15 (J.W.)—Ranny Weeks, New England's ace band leader, states that he intends to retain his good head of hair. Ranny goes to John E. Warner because he knows that his scalp will receive an advanced scientific form of treatment and that he need never fear baldness.

He thanks Warner and tells his friends they can be reasonably sure of saving and improving their hair if their case is accepted by John E. Warner and Associates for treatment.

Mr. Weeks has been on the screen and is now having an extended engagement at Boston's Club Mayfair.

Well Groomed Hair Big Asset in Business

BOSTON, Feb. 15 (J.W.)—Mr. John Allen, statistical expert and accountant, whose vocation brings him into many offices, knows that a good head of hair is well worth keeping.

Naturally, as have so many leaders in every field, he has John E. Warner take care of this very important matter for him. John E. Warner's advanced scientific treatment is generally considered the best because it has consistently produced results for thousands of men.

The Warner method of treatment is the most effective because of constant research and study. The fees for treatment are well within the reach of the average man and "payable" as the treatments are taken—not in advance.

If His Case Is Accepted For Warner Treatment

John E. Warner tells many people, "Sorry, I can't help you, because you waited too long and in spite of the claims of various 'hair growers'—baldness is a permanent condition except in very rare cases of alopecia areata." To the man who is losing his hair—and wants to avoid baldness, Warner Associates offer:

An advanced scientific form of treatment which has successfully saved and improved the hair of thousands of men. Each case is treated individually and in complete privacy.

We have enough confidence in our service that we do not ask you to pay in advance or to sign an agreement to take a series of treatments.

Most Advanced Scientific Treatment

BOSTON, Feb. 15 (J.W.)—Consider three average men; one is bald—one thinning—and one has a full head of hair.

Which would you choose to be?

If you are concerned in any way about the condition of your hair and scalp, why not consult John E. Warner and Associates, the nation's leading hair and scalp specialists, today.

Remember, too—there is a great difference in scalp specialists. The cure-all mass production treatment of so-called "hair growers" is as different from the safe, pleasant and effective Warner method of treatment as fantastic claims are from the honest advertising of a worthwhile service.

We cannot grow hair on a bald head. You can be reasonably certain of saving and improving your hair if we accept your case for treatment.

The largest and best equipped office of this kind in the world.

It your hair and scalp show the symptoms of approaching baldness such as very dry, itchy scalp, dandruff and excessive falling hair you SHOULD arrange to save your hair while you still have hair to save. As much as 85% of all baldness is due to local scalp condition which can be checked and corrected if treated in time.

CONVENIENTLY LOCATED

A private scalp examination and consultation is available to you at the offices of John E. Warner without cost or obligation. Fees for treatment are very moderate and are payable as the treatments are taken, not in advance. THE WARNER OFFICES ARE CONVENIENTLY LOCATED AT 320 LITTLE BUILDING, CORNER OF BOYLSTON AND TREMONT STS. HOURS: 10 A. M. to 8 P. M. DAILY; SATURDAYS TO 6 P. M. PHONE HUBBARD 1705. THERE IS A SEPARATE DEPARTMENT FOR WOMEN.

John E. Warner, noted hair and scalp specialist, compliments Gene Krupa, world famous band leader, on his luxuriant head of hair. Gene Krupa says to John E. Warner: "Your honest advice and treatments are responsible for the healthy condition of my hair and scalp and naturally I am very grateful."

EDWARD SHEEHAN
AND MOTHER

Baby Aids Bomber Drive

Infant Buys Part of Bomber

Even when this World War II was nearly a year old, little Edward Thomas Sheehan of Revere Beach pkwy. Everett hadn't been born—but today Eddie pledged 100 shining pennies to the BUY-A-BOMBER fund toward defeating the enemies of his country.

Eddie is only 18 months old now and he was born at about the time the world was summing up what had occurred during the first year of this ever-spreading conflict.

The blond, smiling youngster was brought to the office of the BUY-A-BOMBER EDITOR at 5 Winthrop sq. by his mother, Mrs. Edward Sheehan and there he looked on, wide-eyed, while his heap of pennies were counted out.

Afterwards she showed him how to paste his Defense Savings Stamps in his book, and then how to make the "V" for Victory sign with his little hand. It was a puzzle how to get the chubby fingers arranged, but Eddie finally managed it.

Then he went home with his stamp book, having become the youngest member of the BUY-A-BOMBER PATRIOTS.

You Can Specify Bonds Are for Bomber Drive

Individuals buying defense bonds may stipulate on the purchase application blank that their purchases are in connection with the Massachusetts Bombers Campaign.

On the left-hand side of the green application blank, opposite where you write the name with which the bond is to be inscribed, notice the three words: "Buy for Defense." Immediately above this is a small space in which can be written "Massachusetts Bombers Campaign." Write this only in the space described.

Individuals or firms buying either stamps or bonds in connection with the Massachusetts Bombers drive are requested to notify these newspapers by WRITING to the BUY-A-BOMBER EDITOR, 5 Winthrop Sq., Boston, so that the amount representing their investment may be listed.

It is specifically requested that individual purchases be reported in writing rather than by telephone.

It gives everybody an opportunity to LICK A STAMP AND HELP LICK A JAP—to BUY A BOND AND HELP DROP A BOMB ON A BOAT.

Remember also, that you give away nothing. Instead you make an investment for yourself, one that will come back increased in value by one-third if you hold your bonds and stamps for 10 years.

Thus, you are saving your money in a way that perhaps you never would have normally.

Beyond that you are helping to build a MASSACHUSETTS ARMADA FOR VICTORY.

BUY NOW—and notify the BUY-A-BOMBER EDITOR, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston, in WRITING, that you have made a purchase of bonds or stamps and are allocating the amount of your purchase to the campaign.

Junior Victory Army To Study First Aid

A course in elementary first aid will be the first big feature offered to the more than 11,700 recruits of the Junior Victory Army of New England.

These lessons, written especially for Junior Army members, will begin next Monday. They are now being prepared.

Parents and friends, as well as all Junior Army recruits will find this course informative and valuable. While they should not be taken as a substitute for actual training, the lessons will provide the rudiments of this important phase of national defense.

They will prove of value as a preparation for more advanced and practical training under personal instructors. Pictures and sketches will add to their interest.

The course has been obtained from authoritative sources and has been approved by first aid experts.

WATCH FOR DETAILS

Watch the Junior Army news for more details on this first big feature presented to members of the new youth movement to enlist all boys and girls in civilian defense efforts.

Meanwhile members should have scrapbooks and be prepared to clip and paste the lessons for future reference and as a souvenir of their service in the Junior Army. Those who do not have scrapbooks should buy them. They need not be expensive.

Recruits will be glad to learn, too, that it won't be long now before their insignia pins are distributed. The shipment from the manufacturer is expected next week and it is expected the mailing of the pins to New England members will begin about next Tuesday.

Girls, hundreds of whom are in the army already—the Junior Victory Army of New England—are proving their patriotism and their eagerness to help civilian defense in scores of ways every day.

Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Y. W. C. A. girls and feminine members of various other organizations are engaged in activities all-important in America's all-out effort for victory.

FROM ALL N. E.

Striking proof of the enthusiastic willingness of girls to take part in service for their country is offered in the thousands of enrollment blanks they have sent in from all sections of New England.

And by far the largest number of the hundreds of letters received at headquarters from new recruits as well as from parents have been written by girls.

Girl Reserves of the Younger Girls Department of the Boston Y. W. C. A., under the direction of Miss Florence Shaw, are among those organized in classes and doing their bit to be of practical help when the need arises in the emergency requires.

Among the new members of the Junior Victory Army from the Girl Reserves are:

NEW GIRL MEMBERS

Gloria Carbee, Gilbert rd., Mary Diamond, Clyde st. and Fellina Beach, Merrill ave., all Belmont; Jeanne Carroll, Elwyn rd., and Barbara Clemons, School st., both Dorchester; and Sharon Stepanian, W. Boylston st. and Irene Grigoreas, Putnam st., both Watertown.

These and other members of the 1500 Girl Reserves are following a program designed for physical fitness, morale building and the development of skill in arts and crafts to meet emergencies the war may offer.

They are learning games to use themselves and to teach smaller children in case of air raids; they are studying nutrition and health and are learning to knit scarves as a forerunner for more intricate work such as socks and helmets. They are rolling bandages and taking first aid instruction.

These classes are being conducted in the main Y. W. C. A. and in 25 clubs and high schools throughout Greater Boston, including Belmont, Dorchester, and the Watertown branch.

Lenten Season Calls Faithful

With special Ash Wednesday services, thousands of the faithful this week will begin the 40-day period of prayer and fasting that is known as the season of Lent.

Easter Sunday falls this year on April 5. The Ash Wednesday services will mark the distribution of holy ashes and is one of the most solemn for both the Catholic and Episcopal faiths.

In Catholic churches, the Lenten services will include the rosary, sermon and benediction every Wednesday, and stations of the cross and benediction on Friday afternoon and evenings.

14 CHURCHILL PINS FATE ON U. S. CITES RUSSIA'S TURNING OF TIDE

LONDON, Feb. 16 (AP)—Winston Churchill, standing before his people at one of the blackest hours of their history, has assured them that the United Nations "will be found fully capable of squaring all accounts" and the question before Britain today is how strong remains her faith in his leadership.

Although he bore a message of disaster, the prime minister declared that ultimately the overwhelming fact of the war would be that "the power of the United States and its vast resources . . . are in it with us."

It fell to the prime minister yesterday to broadcast to the empire the most dismal news for its people since Dunkirk: "Singapore has fallen. All the Malay peninsula has been overrun."

That bare statement was all that Britain was told of the loss of her great fortress and the fate of its valiant defenders except for Japan's announcement that Singapore had surrendered unconditionally.

SEES OTHER DANGERS
But Churchill frankly acknowledged it to be a "heavy and far-reaching defeat" and, though he was pleading for confidence, he told Britain in unvarnished words:

"Other dangers gather about us out there and none of the dangers which we have hitherto faced successfully at home and in the East are in any way diminished."

Loss of the island citadel, guardian of the gateway to the Indian Ocean and a rampart for the defense of the Dutch East Indies and Australia, came after a week of dismaying news for Britain, news which had loosed a cry of doubt in the empire's leadership.

OMITS NAZI SHIPS
The Prime Minister, did not mention the feat of a German naval squadron in slipping home through the English Channel; he did not mention Japan's growing threat to Burma; he touched but briefly on the dark picture in Libya.

Some Britons regarded the

government's silence on details of Singapore's downfall as a wise security measure for the present.

With the exception of Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express, however, all London newspapers which took a stand expressed misgivings and hinted at a rising clamor for change which may reach as far as Downing street.

There was abundant evidence that Churchill may be facing one of the stormiest political battles of his career when Commons meets.

Opposition elements were rallying steadily around Sir Stafford Cripps, the returned former ambassador to Moscow, who has stayed outside the government as a critic.

FOES SEEK DEBATE

Although Churchill was expected to make a full statement on the escape from Brest of the Nazi battleships Gneisenau and Scharnhorst and the heavy cruiser Prinz Eugen in order to forestall criticism, it was probable that the opposition would try to get a general debate on both setbacks.

Even more than the defeat at Singapore, which, after all, the Empire had been prepared to hear, the people were smarting under the naval upset and in some quarters where Churchill's popularity had been strongest the Nazi ships' dash to freedom caused the greatest misgivings.

"We must endure anything, certainly," said the Daily Mail, "but to go on offering us tears, sweat and blood in monotonous gloom of stoical resignation is now to confess . . . that something is seriously wrong with the conduct of the war as a whole."

The Daily Mail warned the Prime Minister that "if he does not make radical changes in the general direction of our war effort now, the day may come soon when these changes will be forced by the impact of further disasters."

Only the Express came to his support with the exhortation that "We must stand together under the great leader this land has produced for its trial."

CITES FAVORABLE BALANCE

Essentially this was the Prime Minister's message:

Formidable as are the factors against Britain, they are outweighed by those in her favor. Therefore the nation must preserve its unity and its confidence in itself.

"The first and greatest of events," he began "is that the United States is now unitedly and wholeheartedly in the war with us."

"I cannot believe there is any other fact in the whole world which can compare with that."

"The Russian armies have not been defeated," he said, "they have not been torn to pieces . . . They are advancing victoriously, driving the foul invader from that native soil they have guarded so bravely and loved so well . . ."

"Here, then, are two tremendous facts which will in the end dominate the world situation and make victory possible . . ."

Reds Cut Nazi Line To Foil Spring Push

MOSCOW, Feb. 16 (AP)—Russian soldiers striving to crush Germany's spring offensive even before it starts were reported today to have smashed into Hitler's basic winter defenses, meeting Nazi reserve troops in furious battle and throwing back counterattacks with heavy losses to the Germans.

Dispatches from the front said the Russians had advanced 30 miles during the past few days in one sector. It was not identified.

(The Red army driving through White Russia is within 72 miles of the old Polish frontier and the Wilno (Vilna) district on the southeast frontier of Lithuania, a Stockholm dispatch broadcast by the British radio said.)

Red Star, the army newspaper, jubilantly said that "our troops have come into contact in many sectors with the basic German fortified lines which have been built in the rear in the last few months."

LOSING THEIR CHANCE

"Hitler's generals realize the jumping off place for the spring offensive is slipping through their fingers."

The midnight communique said the Russians continued their offensive yesterday but gave no indication where the main fighting was in progress.

The Russians in recent days have told of continued advances but concealed the towns and cities involved. There was no clear outline of the front.

Roughly speaking, however, reports indicated the line ran southward from Leningrad through the Lake Ilmen sector east of the old Latvian border; thence through what has become known as the Kalinin front to the central sector, where the Red army is threatening Smolensk from the north and south.

TOUCHES AZOV SEA

Then it runs southward toward Kharkov, in the Donets Basin, bulges westward toward Dnepropetrovsk, and curves back to the southeast to reach the Sea of Azov east of Taganrog.

NINE JAPS GET ENOUGH, SURRENDER AT BATAAN

By CLARK LEE

WITH GEN. MACARTHUR ON THE BATAAN PENINSULA, Feb. 15 (Delayed) (AP)—The first sizable group of Japanese—totaling nine—surrendered voluntarily to Gen. Douglas MacArthur's forces today in preference to dying on the battlefield and having their spirits enshrined at Yasukuni.

All previous prisoners have been either wounded and captured or overpowered and disarmed.

The nine yielded meekly enough, walking without guns to a Filipino scout machinegun position at the western flank on the Bataan peninsula, where the leader handed over his notebook, pocketbook, glasses and other personal belongings as a token of submission.

After finding themselves treated well, however, the nine turned obdurate, refusing to answer a majority of the questions put to them. They even denied they had surrendered, asserting they were taken while sleeping.

OFFICERS COMMIT SUICIDE

American officers believe, however, the nine Japanese got more than enough of fighting, and even though they had been told they would be killed if captured, preferred the possibility of life as American prisoners to certain death in the Bataan jungle where their unit had been surrounded by American-Filipino forces. Most of their officers had committed suicide.

Japanese planes had dropped orders to this group to try to swim back to their own lines, then canceled the orders and told them to assemble at the shore of the Chinese sea, apparently to await boats which would attempt to evacuate them after their failure to crack the American-Filipino flank. Copies of both orders, however, fell behind Gen. MacArthur's lines, and shore watchers, thus alerted, killed many of the swimmers.

ASK FOR FOOD

I saw the nine Japanese when they were first brought to the American field command post. Only one was in uniform. The others were only G-strings. Either they had been swimming or had stripped off their clothes before surrendering.

They requested—and were given—"water" and food. They did not object to being photographed, in contrast to most Japanese prisoners who fear their families thus might learn of their capture.

American officers are drawing no conclusions regarding Japanese morale in general from this incident, but at least it shows there are some Japanese who would rather be live prisoners than dead Shinto heroes.

The American-Filipino defenders, who have just driven the last Japanese from landing points on the west coast of Bataan after severe fighting, say the invaders are good soldiers, but they have no respect for the Japanese as men.

FOUND TO BE TRICKY

Since the Pacific war started, the Japanese have committed many acts of suicidal fanaticism, but the Americans say they haven't seen any examples which they would class as gallant or heroic.

These men of MacArthur's say the best description of the Japanese is "tricky." They know all the tricks of jungle fighting such as tying pads on their hands and knees to silence the sound of their creeping through brush. They drop a fountain pen on a mountain path, with a concealed timing leading to a grenade. They use firecrackers cleverly, throwing one off to the side in brush, and when a unit of defenders goes to investigate, the Japs open fire with concealed machine guns. It is seldom any of these tricks work more than once.

Japanese soldiers engaged in recent fighting in western Bataan have been found carrying equipment obviously intended for use in North China or Manchukuo. Large amounts of this equipment have been captured by the American-Filipino forces, plus quantities of rifles and machine guns, including several automatic rifles of Belgian manufacture.

HERO SCOUT

The 57th Philippine Scouts are living up to the stoic traditions of their profession, none more valiantly than Corp. Pablo Bayangas, who died bravely on the field of battle.

Bayangas and part of his regiment were sent to cut off a detachment of Japanese who had landed on a point in Western Bataan. The 57th threw a line across the point and pushed forward into the woods through the underbrush.

He was advancing ahead of the main forces. He crouched in a fox-hole behind a large tree covering a pathway through the jungle. Late in the afternoon he heard the bushes rustling and saw a large group of Japanese crawling through the brush a short distance away.

Bayangas readied his automatic rifle, waited until the leading Japanese was only 15 feet away, then opened fire. He emptied his magazine, killing 13 Japanese with 20 shots.

SHOT FROM BEHIND

But unnoticed by him, a Japanese officer crawled up from the other side of the tree as Bayangas was reloading his rifle. The Japanese officer fired a pistol bullet into the corporal's head.

Fellow Filipinos heard the firing, ran down the path and killed the enemy officer. They found the shot which had killed the corporal was the last in the Japanese officer's pistol.

BLAME YOUR LAZY LIVER BILE IF-

CONSTIPATION with its headaches, neural dullness and that "half-alive" feeling may often result when your liver doesn't secrete 20 to 30 ounces of bile every day into your intestines. So you see how important it is to keep bile flowing freely! And what finer aid could one desire than Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, used so successfully for years by Dr. F. M. Edwards for treating his patients for constipation and sluggish liver bile.

Olive Tablets are unsurpassed in effectiveness because they stir up liver bile secretion to help digest fatty foods, they tone up muscular intestinal action, at the same time help elimination. Being purely vegetable, Olive Tablets are very safe! Test their supreme goodness TOMORROW! 15¢, 30¢, 60¢. All druggists.

ONE-MAN ARMY—With his tommy-gun and a Garand rifle, Capt. Arthur W. Wermuth of Chicago has "absolutely accounted" for at least 116 Japanese and captured many more on Bataan peninsula. He has won the Silver Star, the Distinguished Service Cross and the Purple Heart with two clasps.

of Thaton, toward which one column was striking from a bridgehead on the west bank of the Salween river near Paan, about six miles farther east.

The other Japanese column was attempting to fight its way up the coast from Maritaban, aided by landing parties put ashore from small boats in Maritaban gulf.

REINFORCEMENTS DUE

It was believed here the Japanese soon would be reinforced by troops released from Malaya by the fall of Singapore, and it appeared that the campaign in Burma was about to enter a critical phase.

For the time being, the defenders of Burma seemed to have virtual control of the air, and official advices, told of heavy bombing and machine-gunning attacks delivered upon the invaders and their lines of communication during the week-end.

U. S. Official Communique

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—The War Department communique, No. 109, based on reports received here till 9:30 a. m. (E. W. T.) today said:

"1—Philippine theater: There was heavy enemy artillery fire in Bataan during the past 24 hours. Intermittent infantry fighting was in progress on several sections of the front.

"Enemy aviation was active throughout the day.

"2—There is nothing to report from other areas."

POLISH HERO SEES ALLIED VICTORY DRIVE THIS YEAR

The United Nations will take the offensive by the end of 1942 and continue on to ultimate victory, Gen. Bronislaw Duch, commander of Polish forces in Canada, predicted today at an interview following his visit to Mayor Tobin at City Hall.

"By the end of 1942, the United Nations will have air superiority over Axis powers," declared Gen. Duch. "Meanwhile, we must hold out against heartbreaking reverses."

The doughty leader of Polish soldiers and aviators training in Canada said:

"The Japanese victories are temporary and regrettable and much blood must be spilled to wipe them out. But, rest assured, they will be wiped out."

BLAMES VICHY

He charged the recent success of Gen. Rommel in North Africa was due principally to the Vichy government.

"German troops were outfitted with French uniforms and transported to North Africa," declared Gen. Duch. "When they arrived, they changed uniforms and joined Rommel."

The military leader was emphatic in stating "German losses in Poland were tremendous" and said the excellent artillery of the Polish army was the reason.

"Our great weakness, our fatal weakness, was our small air force," he said. "There were more German fighters in Poland than in the drive on France. Hitler had to spend nine months reorganizing before starting against France."

AFRICA MORE IMPORTANT

Concerning the fall of Singapore, Gen. Duch pointed out that a choice between that Far Eastern fortress and North Africa had to be made, "and it is more impudent to retain North Africa."

He visualized an invasion of Italy from Africa by the United Nations.

Gen. Duch was accompanied on his official visit to the mayor by outstanding leaders among Boston citizens of Polish ancestry.

16 Japs Overrate Value Of Victories in East

By MAJOR GEORGE FIELDING ELIOT

The United Nations have suffered their worst defeat since Pearl Harbor, and there is no need minimizing or hiding that fact. But it is not an irretrievable defeat, as the Japanese would have the world believe.

For example, Col. Ohira, chief of the army press section at imperial headquarters at Tokyo, in a radio address to the Japanese people, says that the loss of Singapore is a striking blow to the Allies, which is all too true; but when he goes on to say that it impeded communications between Allied territories in the Indian and Pacific Oceans he is counting his chickens before they are hatched.

OPPOSITION IS THERE

Such an interruption will not occur until both Java and Sumatra have been overrun. Indeed, the Japanese have only begun their first attack on Sumatra, making their first landing yesterday, and they are far from having free use of the Strait of Malacca. As for Java, no Japanese have yet set foot on it, although it has been bombed.

There can be no doubt that the Japanese are going in that direction. The reports of large convoys steaming southward to the China Sea undoubtedly reflect the Japanese realization that there are many stout Dutch and Native fighting men, to say nothing of other troops there and on the way which will have to be overcome before Java and Sumatra are in Japanese hands.

The Japanese may take both these islands and they may not. The Japanese may not be in any position to act freely in the Indian ocean until they do, which is the point to be made just at present. Then Col. Ohira goes on to a bigger and better claim. Japan, he says, is now in a position to control both India and Australia. Here the colonel is certainly indulging in wishful thinking. So far the Japanese have nothing more than a small bridgehead, which is under heavy attack on the west bank of the Salween river in Burma. This is as far as they have gotten toward India. If they open the Strait of Malacca their ships may operate in the Bay of Bengal, but so will Anglo-American ships.

The Japanese will not have it all their own way. As for Australia, the Japanese are not there yet. If they do land on the north coast of Australia they are faced with hundreds of miles of most inhospitable desert country in a land as big as continental United States. Hundreds of miles before they get anywhere near Australian center of consequence of any vital railway line.

not a direct attack by Japanese troops at the moment, but the cutting of Australian lines of communication in the Indian ocean. Even then, however, the South Pacific line recently completed and strengthened by the United States Navy would remain open, and it is hard to see how the Japanese could interrupt this line with heavy fighting very far from their home bases and under unfavorable conditions. So Japan still does not control the fate of either Australia or India, and one of Col. Ohira's opening remarks applied here with considerable force.

The fall of Singapore is only one phase of the war which has a long way to go. It has a long way to go before it is over it seems certain tonight.

ALLIES WILL PAY HEAVILY

We and our Allies are going to have to pay heavily for our complacency and our lack of foresight, but we have the resources to pay, bitter though the price may be and Japan has not.

When Col. Ohira states that the absolute strategic superiority of Japan cannot be overcome by England and the United States he is voicing a Japanese hope that will never be realized.

All this, however, should not blind us to the grave danger of a Japanese penetration of the Indian Ocean, where the United Nations have no good naval bases. Such bases can be improvised and it is to be hoped that we are about it. But whatever the cost resources will count in the end if our will to fight and the determination and courage of our people do not fail and they will not fail.

16,600 Raid Posts in N. E.

Warning that "the possible danger of air raids in this region increases daily as the winter months pass," New England's civilian defense chief, Joseph M. Loughlin, today ordered that 16,600 air raid warden sector posts be established immediately.

Loughlin, acting regional director of the Office of Civilian Defense, said that in Massachusetts alone there was need for 8700 posts, rooms in centrally located buildings which wardens and sub-wardens can use for directing protective work in their sectors.

In a message to state defense councils, Loughlin said thousands of qualified air raid wardens are now trained and district warning centers and subsidiaries installed. The next important step is to set up sector posts to link wardens in the field to their report center.

"Without sector posts," he said, "wardens may find themselves isolated workers without a reliable channel of communication to the emergency services. Many of our accomplishments in civilian defense will be nullified in the event of a raid," he said, "if wardens' sector posts are not set up and operating efficiently."

The Masked Jury WIFE IS DISLOYAL

SHOULD HUSBAND KNOW?

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN OF THE JURY: My brother has been confined to a hospital for over a year and it is known to me and others that his wife has been going out with other men all this time.

She not only goes out with those other men but she is aware of our knowledge of this fact, which seems to make it quite evident that she has little or no respect for our feelings. The situation has left me with a serious problem on my hands—and should I tell my brother what is going on while he is sick?

Naturally, I want only to do what is best for him, and under the circumstances I cannot decide. It is a very distressing position for a brother to be in and I would like to know the Masked Jury's attitude in regard to this. My question is simply this:

Should I tell my brother about what is going on?—J. M.

HOW THE JURY VOTED
Women: Yes, 2; No, 4
Men: Yes, 5; No, 1

ELECTRIC DEALER: Yes. The sooner his brother finds out the better. He will be well rid of her.

DEFENSE WORKER (woman): Yes, I suppose the brother will have to be told sooner or later.

BELLHOP: Yes. If what he says about the wife is true then she probably doesn't care whether he does tell.

HOUSEWIFE: No. Maybe, the brother knows about it and gave her permission to go out while he is in the hospital.

MACHINIST: Yes; it would be a favor to tell his brother, and he ought to tell that dame where to get off.

CARPENTER (woman): No. He should wait until his brother gets better. If he told him now it might hurt his condition.

ENGINEER: No. If his brother has been ill enough to be confined to a hospital for a year then I think he is too sick a man to take on a mental burden now.

HOUSEWIFE: No. I don't think he should tell the brother until after he has talked to the wife and found out more about the POULTRYMAN: Yes. If I were in that brother's position I would certainly want to be told.

STENOGRAPHER: Yes. She doesn't deserve much consideration when she acts as if she doesn't care that everybody knows it.

YARK SUPERVISOR: Yes. I think it will probably be his duty, now or later, to tell his brother what has been going on.

RECEPTIONIST: No. Her going out is probably quite harmless. If she had something serious to hide she wouldn't be doing it so openly.

America's Favorite Comic

Romance By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I'M A YOUNG GIRL in my teens and in love with a young man four years my senior, who says he loves me.

Our parents approve of our friendship. He's going into the Army very soon. We've been going together for almost a year and haven't gone out with others. We're planning on getting married in three or four years. When he goes into the service, I want to get a job and both of us are going to save and put our money in a joint bank account.

Do you think it's a good idea to save together? He believes that when a couple marries they should go on their own and not depend on parents to support them. What do you think about a joint bank account? IN DOUBT.

A joint bank account is a fine thing when both of the depositors are free to draw from it, and the account is on a fifty-fifty basis. You're showing plenty of good common sense in putting by something.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I HAVE KNOWN a soldier for about two months. I met him while he was on furlough. I saw him every night for two weeks, and when he went back to camp we started to correspond. I heard from another friend that this soldier has a birthday coming very soon, and I want to know if it would be proper for me to buy him a gift. If so, what kind of a gift should it be?

Some of my girl friends say I haven't known him long enough to give him a present, but I thought a box of home-made cookies or candy would be acceptable at any time. Don't you think so? W.R.

It would be very nice to send the soldier something for his birthday, even if you haven't known him longer than two months. Why not send him a box of goodies of your own making? I'll be glad to send you some recipes if you'll send me a self-addressed, three-cent stamped envelope.

You might send him a subscription to a magazine, perhaps books if he's fond of reading. Stationery and stamps in a little portfolio are cheap and inexpensive, and especially adapted for soldiers.

A shaving outfit, or one of those little toilet kits including nail clip, file and scissors come in very handy for the enlisted man who hasn't much space for possessions.

Income Tax Information Offered You

Final income tax filing date is March 16. Don't meet the great day in a flurry of last-minute figuring.

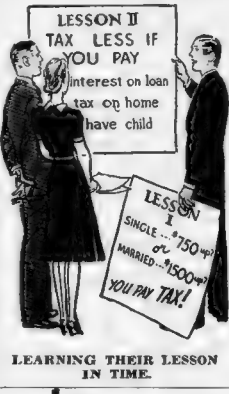

Get your lesson down pat while there still is time!

Who must file returns? All single persons or separated married persons whose annual income is $750 or over; all married persons making $1500 or over. If a man and wife both have incomes and wish to file separately, each is taxable at $750 up.

The new simplified tax form (for incomes not more than $3000) allows 10 per cent deductions. You may have more deductions; then use the regular form, for your tax will be less.

Deductions and exemptions are fully explained in our 40-page booklet, "How to Figure Your Income Tax." Tells how to fill out forms if single, married, business or professional man, or farmer. Also includes sample returns.

Send 15c (plus one cent to cover cost of mailing) for our booklet, "How to Figure Your Income Tax," to Boston Evening American, Home Institute, 109 West 19th street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

LEARNING THEIR LESSON IN TIME.

Good Manners When Tipping Waitress

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN: My boy friend and I have had a friendly argument about the way he gives a waiter or waitress a tip.

He just hands the tip to them, or leaves it on the tray without saying anything. I told him that I think he should also say "thank you," but he says all they want is the tip, and that it's too "fancy" to add "thank you." I did finally get him to say that I could write for your opinion.

PEGGY. Well, Peggy, even though it looks as if you and I are defeated, there still may be hope that you can persuade this young man to accompany his tip with a "thank you," said as graciously as he will permit himself to say it. The fact that we have paid for the service doesn't mean that we should omit thanking for the service.

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN: I am considering getting a divorce, and I would like to have your advice about asking for the court's permission to take back my first husband's name. This is the circumstance: I was married most happily for 15 years and had two children, who live with me. My husband died, and three years afterward I married a man with whom I have been most unhappy. Would you advise me to take back my first husband's name? E. R. W.

It is natural for you to want to do this, and sensible for you to do it, since it is also the name of your children.

SUNDAY ADVERTISER

OUR DAILY CITATION: To the millions of Americans between 20 and 44 years of age who are registering today for Selective Service. Thousands of these men will fight as soldiers on the battle front. Other thousands will keep the wheels of industry humming on the home front. But all are united in a mighty determination to speed the day of victory for America.

THE COMEDY IS FINISHED!
WAKE UP AMERICA!

THERE has been complaint in official Washington that the American people are complacent about the war.

Complacency is indeed our danger, but it is not public complacency about the war.

The American people know well enough that the war is serious, that it will be long, and that it will cost a shocking number of lives and an unbelievable amount of money.

The people realistically accept all these facts, and are determined to win the war in spite of them.

However, it is unhappily true that the American people are tragically complacent about one vital matter closely related to the war—a matter which will prolong the struggle and increase its cost in lives and money and possibly affect its outcome profoundly.

The American people are doing practically nothing to compel Congress and the Federal Government to confine all efforts, and particularly all expenditures, to the sole purpose of conducting and winning the war.

Their complacency in the face of extravagant and enormous diversions of public money from vital military purposes to purely political purposes is almost beyond belief.

FROM THE BEGINNING OF THE NATIONAL EMERGENCY, AND IN FACT FROM THE VERY BEGINNING OF THE PRESENT WAR, THE GOVERNMENT HAS NOT DEMANDED AND THE CONGRESS HAS NOT PROVIDED ANY SUBSTANTIAL CURTAILMENT OF NON-DEFENSE EXPENDITURES.

True, the Government and Congress have provided lavishly for national defense, if appropriations are to be the gauge—although sufficient production has not matured to check Japan's adventurous and ambitious aggressions in any part of the Far Pacific.

BUT THE GOVERNMENT AND CONGRESS HAVE ALSO CONTINUED TO PROVIDE LAVISHLY, BY BOTH APPROPRIATION AND EXPENDITURE, FOR POLITICAL PROJECTS AS REMOTE FROM DEFENSE AS NEW DEAL BOONDOGLING IN THE EARLY DEPRESSION YEARS WAS REMOTE FROM THE CONSTRUCTIVE INTERESTS OF THE PEOPLE.

The current business in Congress, which should be solely concerned with war measures, is presently being made to include a vast variety of spending measures which have no bearing on the war.

Some of them are measures—such as the Florida Ship Canal—which were found without merit and rejected long before the war.

It is a vain hope that Congress, by its own patriotic initiative and courage, will become so engrossed in the essential conduct of the war as to forego "pork barrel" expenditures and political log-rolling.

But surely the American people, who have had to put war needs ahead of many essential needs of the family and the home, should insist that the American Congress put the war FIRST in the disposition of public funds.

On The Side

Grief oft treads upon the heels of pleasure,
Married in haste we oft repent at leisure;
Some by experience find these words misplaced
Married at leisure, they repent in haste.

—BENJAMIN FRANKLIN.

"THE BEST of men and the best of women may sometimes live together all their lives—and hold each other lost spirits to the end," said Robert Louis Stevenson. "Who are happy in marriage? Those with so little imagination that they cannot picture a better state, and those so shrewd that they prefer quiet slavery to hopeless rebellion," stated H. L. Mencken. "Alas! For all the pretty women who marry dull men. Go into the suburbs and never come out again," said Anna Wickham.

FOR THE FIRST TIME in Hollywood history snoring has been advanced by an actress as grounds for divorce. The lovely little lady said her husband snored so loudly she had to close the windows so the neighbors wouldn't complain. And that, when she complained of his snoring, her husband flew into a rage and treated her terribly. A tragic case. Still, let us be fair. Could the husband help it if he snored? His wife should have worn ear stoppers, or had a separate room or devoted her time to finding out if her loved one's snoring could be cured.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: "Women do not lie more than men, but they are better liars," claims Dr. Donald Laird. . . If a man never shaved or had his beard trimmed between the ages of 20 and 65, his beard would be 72 yards long. That's another answer you could use to fellows who ask: "What do you know?" or, maybe, it would interest your barber. . . Howard Johnson, who now has a chain of 132 restaurants, achieved his initial success because he served excellent chocolate ice cream and also gave his patrons a choice of 28 other flavors. . . There are over 250 words in the dictionary beginning with "X." If you can name 12 of these in five minutes or less, you don't have to buy me a cigar.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q. How many members of Protestant Episcopal Church are there in the United States? What is the fifth largest State? How can you put a crab to sleep? Where was Gutenberg, inventor of the printing press, born? Who originated the spitball? What film was it that Dillinger saw just before he was shot and who was the star? A. Hey, mister, who do you think I am, Prof. Quiz or the Answer Man? Anyway, there are 1,735,335 members of the Protestant Episcopal Church. California is the fifth largest State. Gutenberg was born in Mainz, Germany. Elmer Stricklett originated the spitball. And the last film John Dillinger saw was "Manhattan Serenade," starring Clark Gable. We do not know how to put a crab to sleep, but have sent the office boy out for a crab and will experiment and report in an early issue. Q. Eddie, you're my pal aren't you? I'm a Brooklynite in distress. I am to be best man at a wedding and, at the reception, I have to propose a toast to the happy couple. Help! Help! A. How about Byron's:

Shut them in,
With their triumphs
And their glories and the rest!
Love is best!
What's the earth
With all its art, word, music, worth
Compared with love found, gained and kept?

NEW IDEA: A Chicagoan says feminine subscribers will be unquestionably interested to know there is a new system of permanent waving called the "Cold Wave" system. "Imagine," says she, "a permanent wave as beautiful as Loretta Young's that can be poured on like water out of a bottle." I can't imagine it. I don't even know how a permanent wave is accomplished, but I have always supposed those sad looking ladies you see through the windows of beauty shops with a lot of metal on their heads were getting a permanent wave. No, ma'am, I have never asked my girl friend how she got a permanent wave. Perhaps I should be more curious.

PLEASE NOTE: As to making pie crust, an Oakland matron, said to be the best pie crust maker on the Pacific Coast, recommends ice cold water be used in the dough. A Detroit cook, said to be the pie crust champion of Michigan, states boiling water is best for pie crust. One of these experts must be wrong, or perhaps the temperature of the water is not important.

Gloria Vanderbilt

By Dorothy Kilgallen

NEW YORK, Feb. 16—Key Kyser and Ginny Simms are lovey-dovey again after their flurry of newspaper romances with two other people. . . Her intimates say Mrs. Pat Di Cicco (Gloria Vanderbilt) is expecting a package from Paradise. . . Jack White, the Club 18's chief comic, is sipping with influenza. . . The Ida Lupino-Louis Hayward household is straining again—for a new reason. . . Cafe society is buzzing over the sock in the jaw a well-known society widow won from her boy friend—because he asked her for $100,000 and she only gave him half that! . . . Former U. S. Atty. John T. Cahill is slated to become general counsel for one of the top radio networks. . . Rita Hayworth's trip to South America—she was to have made a p. a. in Rio on Valentine's Day—has been cancelled because of her poor health. . . Irving Berlin made an unpublished journey to Camp Upton last week. He was a soldier there in 1918 and it was there that he wrote his first successful war song, "Yip, Yip, Yaphank," so it was a sentimental journey. . . Joe Cook's retirement is sadder than most thing.

M-G-M EXECUTIVES are going soon to decide whether or not the studio will enter the record business. If they go into the disc business, Tommy Dorsey will be their keystone band. . . Greta Garbo has made an appointment with a local medico to have her ears pierced. . . Liz Whitney must have taken Cole Porter's lyrics for "Farming" seriously—she's really cultivating her 3000-acre farm in Virginia. . . Columnist Dorothy Dey and mimic Dean Murphy are the annual Florida item. . . Marianne Baxter, the Hurricane showgirl, kissed Pvt. Charles Rutan for publicity pictures at Ft. Hamilton last week—and the kiss took! Now they're both terribly smitten. . . The night club operators are going to ask the ABC board if it would be all right to have barmen instead of bartenders—on account of the draft.

GOLD STARS: To Bob Grant's swell dance rhythms at the Stork. . . The Club Frisco, where Joe Frisco tells the old ones. . . The way Eddie Davis sings "All for One, One for All," at Leon and Eddie's. . . The gorgeous costumes Don Loper did for the Copacabana show. . . Henry Levine's Dixieland band on NBC's Basin Street program. . . Bob Burns' revised air show, "Arkansas Traveler." . . Nicholas Matthay's romantic gypsy fiddling at the Casino Russe. . . Lynn and Marianne, the comedy song team at Bill Bertolotti's. . . The coming film, "The Invaders."

IT'S DIMITRIOS VILAN, the dancer, who's been acquiring Talullah Bankhead to the 1-2-3 so regularly. . . There's a shortage of air raid wardens in the Grand Central Terminal area. . . J. P. McEvoy has gone to Washington to profile Donald Nelson for a national magazine. . . Frank Shepard, who produces the Leon and Eddie's girl shows, has been secretly married for weeks to Mary Barth, formerly of "Hellzapoppin'." . . It's another piano player, not Roy Bargy, who has Lee Wiley mooning. . . The ex-Mrs. Harry Hopkins is quietly doing social service work for the Red Cross at Ft. Devens. . . The critics should see some of the stanzas in Ben Hecht's rhyming diatribe, addressed—but not sent—to them. . . And Henry Bellman, author of "King's Row," is another who's burned at the N. Y. reviewers for what they did to the film version of his novel. He wrote a beef, too, but Warners suppressed it.

RAGS RAGLUND is sporting a new nose bob. . . Most hilarious entertainment in town is Danny Kaye singing "The Mikado" in Yiddish. He hasn't done it in public yet, just at parties for friends. . . James McKinley Bryant, compiler of the Cafe Society Register, has been offered a part in "Johnny Two-by-Four," an impending play about cafe society. . . The U. S. Civil Service Commission can use 1000 women as laboratory aids and also expert stenographers. . . It is true that Gilbert Miller, who directed "Heart of a City," the new drama about a blitzed revivified theater in London (which Virginia Peine runs about in a super-sexy costume) has never seen a burlesque show!

IDA LUPINO

BOSTON after DARK

By GEORGE HOLLAND

MONDAY MORNING MUSINGS: Boston will have another "produced" playwright with the opening tonight of "Under This Roof" . . . He, Herbert B. Ehrmann, is the second local son to be represented by a play brought to production since this department moaned, at some length, six months ago about the scarcity of playwrights in the purlieus of our fair city. . . The other was young Felix Doherty, who wrote "Song Out of Sorrow" . . . Whereas Mr. Doherty settled for a semi-professional presentation of his opus in a little theater in New York, Mr. Ehrmann will be answering calls for "Author, Author!" (we hope) at the acutely-professional theater, the Plymouth. . . And a Broadway house, the Windsor, engaged to house the Ehrmann exactly a week hence.

GETTING MR. EHRMANN into production at last is the climax of a logical sequence of events. . . He has been writing plays since he got out of an academic course at Harvard, in 1912, and the Harvard Law School two years later. . . It is a bright student who can absorb the Harvard law course in two years, and he became known in later life as a "Frankfurter boy." . . Now "Frankfurter boys," besides being bright on their own, had a brilliant master. . . The present Supreme Court Justice, quondam dean of the Harvard Law School, knew how to get the most out of his material we learned in a chat with his disciple, Mr. Ehrmann.

YOU MAY REMEMBER WHEN HARVARD created a sensation in the world of journalism, which embraces the newspaper business, by announcing four or five years ago that a foundation had been established whereby working newspapermen could take a year of study, under full newspaper pay, and be rewarded with a degree. . . These lads were called Nieman Fellows, and the reason for that was that a benefactor named Nieman had endowed the course. . . These fellows, we learned from Mr. Ehrmann, were assigned, as part of their matriculation, to a course taught by Mr. Justice Frankfurter. . . At the same time, some old scholars of the legal profession (including Mr. Ehrmann) had enrolled in the Frankfurter course to sip from the cup of knowledge which the great Frankfurter was refilling daily with a concoction of his genius, inspirational qualities and keen active shrewdness. . . What did the eminent professor do? . . . Did he send out lawyers to do newspapermen's work and vice versa? . . . No. He sent the newspapermen out digging up stories, stories with a case background that the lawyers in the class could then digest and adjudicate according to their lights and talents.

ONE OF THESE stories happened to be that of the Congressional committee which had looked into the whys and wherefores of the "Jim Fiske panic" of '73. . . And one of those Nieman fellows happened to be a Boston newspaperman who did such marvelous digging on the assignment that his fellow-pupil, Atty. Ehrmann, got the background of the play a first-night-audience will see tonight. . . So you see, "Under This Roof" definitely has a Boston background. . . So has the text of the play itself. . . A "smug State St. banker" is one character. . . Where did Mr. Ehrmann meet the original of his fictional character, or did he? . . . He did. . . "You can't practice law in Boston for 30 years without meeting several of them," he said.

JUSTICE FELIX FRANKFURTER

MR. EHRMANN HAS BEEN a "liberal" lawyer. . . He was associate counsel in the Sacco-Vanzetti case. . . He is active in the Civil Liberties Union. . . The words "reactionary" and "liberal" dropped in sets from his lips thrice in a short conversation. . . He says that the Boston anti-bolitionists of the Civil War period are of a type which today would cry down Communism.

ALTHOUGH THIS CORNER is confident that in thus joining 99.44 per cent of Civil War Boston with the love of slavery, Mr. Ehrmann is about 99.44 per cent wrong, we nevertheless see in him a hope for Boston-town's glory in the theater. . . Moreover, if he hasn't written a worthy play, he has let the "Frankfurter boys" legend be tarnished slightly. . . But we're rooting for he doesn't

Hollywood Today

SAROYAN AUTHORS
FILM SCRIPT

By Louella O. Parsons

William Saroyan

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 16—The fabulous William Saroyan, author of many fantastic stories and plays, has turned over to M-G-M a 400-word script, "The Human Comedy." Believe it or not, it is a tender, human interest story of a small, mythical California town which he calls Ithica. The characters are all middle-class people—a mother, a son, 17; a girl in school and a brother in the Army. Mickey Rooney plays the 17-year-old—really a wonderful Rooney role.

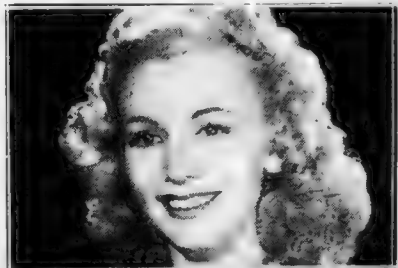

There is quite a story back of the Saroyan deal. The author said he wanted to write a story directly for the movies, and that he didn't want to be paid until he had completed a satisfactory job. So he went to his home in San Francisco, and "The Human Comedy" is the result. M-G-M bought it, and Saroyan will develop it. Later he will put his movie in book form. He is probably not as altruistic as this sounds, for I reckon he will get a pretty sum for his completed movie script.

ONE OF THE HIGHEST PRICED free lance actors in Hollywood has always been Brian Aherne, who has made pictures when he wished and remained idle if a story didn't appeal to him. He has steadfastly refused to sign a contract that would give his services exclusively to any one studio, but now he has put his John Hancock on a Columbia ticket and will make pictures at that studio.

TALKED WITH VINTON FREEDLEY, producer of "Let's Face It." He was the guest of the Jack Warners at the Bundles for Bluejackets dinner the other eve. He told me he hopes to sign Carol Bruce for a musical he plans to produce in the fall, and that Dorothy and Herbert Fields and Cole Porter will furnish the book and the music. The talented Fields, brother and sister, are arriving here to write the adaptation of "Let's Face It" for Paramount. "And," said Freedley, "we'll probably all be sitting around a swimming pool in California a little later talking over our Broadway show." Personally, I think Carol Bruce would be very foolish not to retu to Broadway, for she is much better on the stage than she is in the movies.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: Mayoe it seems a little premature, coming so soon on the heels of her separation from Howard Wilson, but it looks like Sue Carol and Alan Ladd have matrimony in mind. Sue, who used to be the college boys' delight when she was on the screen, turned agent several years ago and one of her first discoveries was the Ladd boy, who is going great guns at Paramount now. So, what started out on a business basis—comes up love!

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD: Robert Arden, famed commentator, would like to call Carole Landis Mrs. Arden—that's how hard he has fallen; Ginger Rogers and her mother and Jean Gabin trauced out tonight for New York; Franchot Tone, far from well, will take a rest as soon as he finishes his Columbia movie; June Millard, pretty 19-year-old actress, and Russell Arms, Warner contract player, are finding each other good company; Phil Berg and Buster Collier celebrated their joint birthdays with a soiree at the Berg home St. Valentine's night; poor little Dickie Jones broke his leg so now he is out of the cast of Shirley Temple's picture, "Annie Rooney"; McKinley Kantor repented at M-G-M to adapt his novel, "Gentle Annie."

Did you see the herd of ponderous pachyderms what wuz in my Grill the other night? They wuz six burpers, better known as rasslers, jest in town from Buffalo. The guy on the left wuz "Tiger" Lahey, an' the guy in the middle wuz the "Terrible Russian."

I believe in connivin' to do all I can to promote the war efforts an' Charlie Brett, what's dancin' in my Grill, has concocted a dancin' "Quiz" contest an' he does forty-two different dances durin' the evenin' and if you identify certain ones, ya get defense stamps as prizes. Come in an' try ta guess a few!

Ya know, I'm gettin' a bit tired of winter an' I'd give five bucks for a good an' hot spring air an' a chance ta get out in a sand lot an' swing a baseball bat a few times!

Boles at Mayfair; Rhodes Wednesday

By SAM BERENSON

Guiding-hand Ed Wyner of the Ritz Carlton Hotel informs us that the Sky Parlor hereafter will open during the latter part of May, continuing to feature smoothness in entertainment and swing bands.

That new gal-line at the Rhumba Casino Room of the Fox & Hounds is a definite eye-opener for the stay-up set . . . many of Manhattan's purtiest among these ladies and excellent dancers to wit

Dagmar, one of the most famed names in dancing circles brings her own exotic talents to the Ritz Carlton. Beachcomber come sundown to give the top-hat set a mighty attractive visiting spot at this parlor . . . Dagmar's specialty "The Dance of the Devil" will prove, we venture, as alluring a floor attraction as the Rialto has seen in many a moon . . . by all means underline the Beachcomber on your date pad for action in the gay and firey temple.

John Boles, star of stage and screen, bring his so-successful engagement at the club Mayfair to a close Tuesday evening. Mr. Boles has broken all known records here and was the best bet this club has had since its opening. The Mayfair's emphasis on top-flight salon personalities continues, for Wednesday marks the debut of another Hollywood screen star, Erick Rhodes.

Ten years ago a young girl in her teens walked out on a Broadway stage. She had a mournful sob in her voice . . . Her long dark hair covered her shoulders . . . The spotlight picked her out on a bare stage and for the first time Broadway heard the husky tones of one of its most famous stars. It was Libby Holman introducing her memorable "Moanin' Low" . . . This week Libby comes out of a self-imposed retirement to open at the Balinese Room of the Hotel Somerset.

Sibyl Bowman, famous character impressionist currently headlining at the Latin Quarter is proving to be the year's outstanding night club sensation . . . The Hollywood Cedeos open the revue while the Equillo Brothers lend clever novelty to the show. Walter Donahue as master of ceremonies and the Mazzone-Abbott Dancers, provide the thrill in the climactic Apache presentation.

For a jour de fete, Associate Manager Gerald T. Wogan who is an epicure, reports that the Roast Beef to be found at Walter Seaver's Hotel Lenox is of par excellence for those who like adventures in good eating . . . well in the popularity forefront among diner's out is Ruby Foo's Den . . . the Chinese New Year started last night, and to these friends of ours may the year bring health and triumph . . . The colorful Cave smacks open the week with a starchy floor offering which shapes up as one of the best to be seen here this season . . . And pleasant visiting is Stubben's Vienna Room

A good take-in at any time is Bob Appleton's Circus Room at the Hotel Bradford . . . entertainment in the modern manner is always to be found here . . . that applause-worthy accent on swing goes right on making the Bermuda Terrace of the Hotel Brunswick a prime factor in any after-dark plans . . . and tonight finds the bowing in of another top-flight rhythm crew with the debut of Charlie Barret and his orchestra . . . Fast action sets the pace at the Half-Way Cafe in Roslindale . . . a smart feature is that Defense Bond Night on Wednesday.

Fun and entertainment all around the clock at Harry Sher's Silver Dollar. It seems that there is never a lull in activities and the popularity of the cafe and the policy of the management of always having something doing, account for this. The current entertainment in the Blue Terrace Room is excellent and some of the year's best performers combine their talents to create an outstanding revue.

Shame on you if you don't take in Tommy Tucker and his band at the Copley Plaza hotel . . . this orchestra is tops and so grand to dance to . . . he's here till the 24th . . . so hurry! hurry! . . . Joline French the charming songstress at the smart Fire and Drum room at the Hotel Vendome bound to go places . . . a nice voice and a grand personality.

At the request of club visitors, Bobby LaMarr again is held over at the Spotlite, popular Essex at gathering spot. A brisk new revue is on tap for the week, with a further spotlight on Tops Cardona and his band. Monday night is Amateur Night.

Rio-Casino Show Should Be on Your 'Must' List

After a successful engagement at the Rio Casino "Adrift in New York" drops its curtain come week-out on the sturdiest shows smash that our village has seen in years. A star-studded revue makes a further feature and an excellent reason why you should drop yourself a Castigation to your calling. A spotlight to that lovely and capable songstress, Helen Carroll, whose singing is so popular with Rio Casino guests. Open daily and Sundays here.

Essex Stages Queen Contest

It will be a parade of beauty at the Hotel Essex Grill Room when Boston's Press Photographers hold their annual photogenic Queen contest. Billy Kelly, genial emcee will introduce the lovely ladies. Representatives from newspapers will serve as judges. The Lana Turner Silver Cup will be presented to the winner. A special show will also take place for the pleasure of the patrons.

on a flashy Manhattan revue up yonder at the Lawrence Hofbrau . . . plenty of talent, plenty of glamour to this one . . . the all adding up to a most beguiling treat for your after-dusk clubbing . . . drop in here for likeable entertainment in the Hofbrau's own Irish manner . . . Cappy's popular North Easton pliancy still echoes smartly to the downbeat of the Sam Donahue band . . . That likeable action-pattern continues on at Dorgan's Old Harbor House, where again the floor revue is enticing indeed and the sea-tangled atmosphere all that could be desired.

A new musical revue for the Coconut Grove, with the dancing Stapletons as the featured attraction . . . a high-light here is the boomp-e-daisy, performed nightly by the chorus, with the audience participating . . . held over is Miss Evelyn Martin, that lovely dancing star, who has been featured in so many Broadway hits . . . Into Blinstrub's South Boston Village this week swings another of those fast-styled entertainment sessions that are so much hand clapping for this colorful oasis . . . there's a bright Manhattan tempo to this sparkling floor-clicque, neatly blending speed, beauty and variety . . . at Ribby's Alston Cafe . . . particularly gay are those Monday evening performances and defense bond offerings.

26 Georgia Sothorn Stars at Globe

Georgia Sothorn, the last syllable in allurements so far as burlesque fans are concerned, is currently causing traffic jams at the Globe boxoffice.

She is the star attraction, and the sky is the limit. Sharing spotlight honors with her is Marian organ, a Cuban charmer whose talents are varied and attention-getting.

Other featured pretties are Frances White, Nadine Marsh, Elinor Keye and the always dependable 30 dancing Bernardolls, whose specialty of the week is the Zipper Zoomer number.

Comedy is being dispensed skillfully by Jack "Tiny" Fuller, Wen Hitt and the singing Buster Lortzen.

Vaudeville's well-known ballroom duo, Jackson and Sevier, the sharp-shooting Mandfields, the "Voice of the Phonograph," Walter Behr, and the dancing-wonder, Sammy Burns, are featured acts.

Film attractions are "Hollywood Cavalcade" and "Clisco Kid and the Lady," as well as the usual latest newswreels and comedy shorts.

Top attraction at the Old Howard this week is Mike Sacks, a droll fellow who has long been a favorite with burlesque fans here and everywhere on the circuit.

But think not that the ludicrous displaces the lovelies in the current stage presentation, for prominently featured are such outstanding charmers as Ciel Von Dell, Toni Mitchell, Alynne Payne, Alice Kennedy, Kay Austin, Pearl Parker, and last but not least, June Taylor.

Miss Taylor, a newcomer to burlesque, has just terminated a sensational Broadway engagement.

Vaudeville is represented in the week's bill by the Herzogs, world-famed gymnasts; the Gilberts, dancing wonders; Billy and Ann St. George, modern rhythm artists; and Larue and Carroll, comedy acrobats and dancers.

BARBARA SCULLY, a star while still in her teens, is to be seen for this final week in "Student Prince," which is positively moving out of the Shubert Saturday night.

RUSSELL HARDIE and Barbara O'Neil have the leading roles in "Under This Roof," Boston attorney Herbert B. Ehrmann's play, opening tonight at the Plymouth.

BETTY FURNESS' tart humor is a major reason why you should catch "My Sister Eileen" before it quits the Wilbur at week's end. From here it goes to Baltimore.

Yes, Roland Young Is Author as Well

Didn't you know either that Roland Young, now before the cameras in 20th Century-Fox's "Tales of Manhattan," was a frequent contributor to the Menck-

Nathan "Smart Set" and that he has published two books of caricatures and acid observation? The late Ring Lardner wrote the foreword for one, "Not for Children."

PLAYBILL FOR WEEK

Tonight

PLYMOUTH—"UNDER THIS ROOF," with Barbara O'Neil, Russell Hardie and Louise Galloway in the leading roles of the New England drama by Herbert B. Ehrmann, Boston lawyer.

The play deals with the crucial period in American history between 1846 and 1873 as related to several generations of a New England family, Russell Lewis and Rita Hassan, producers; Lewis, director, and Perry Watkins, settings. One week only.

Continuing

SHUBERT—"STUDENT PRINCE," with Barbara Scully, Robert Davis, Jay Presson, Nina Varella, Detmar Poppen and many others as well as a rousing male chorus in positively the final week of the farewell tour of the Shuberts' production of the Sigmund Romberg classic.

WILBUR—"MY SISTER EILEEN," with Betty Furness, Dorothy Littlejohn, Leo Chalzel, King Calder, Alfred Eicheverry and Max Showalter featured in the Joseph Fields-Jerome Chodorov comedy based on Ruth McKenney's highly entertaining New Yorker sketches. Final week.

March 2

COLONIAL—"WITHOUT LOVE," with Katharine Hepburn and Elliot Nugent co-starring in the Lawrence Langner-Thomas Harbison production of Philip Barry's new modern comedy. This is not a subscription play of the Theater Guild-American Theater Society, but subscribers will be permitted to purchase tickets at reduced rates. Robert Lincoln directing; sets by Robert Edmund Jones. One week.

MARCH 9

OPERA HOUSE—"THE RIVALS," Theatrical Guild revival of Richard Brinsley

Sheridan's famous comedy, with Bobbie Clark, Mary Boland and Walter Hampden and others now appearing in the production on Broadway. Eva Le Gallienne directing. New production by Arthur Gutterman and music by Mackay Morrow. One week.

WILBUR—"A KISS FOR CINDERELLA," with Cheryl Crawford and Rich and Krauser in collaboration with Weston Freiley and Ilse Schindler presenting Louise Lerner in J. St. Barle's celebrated fantasy. Richard Gaines will appear in support of Miss Lerner. Robert Allen is staging the famous balcony scene. Two weeks.

COLONIAL—"MY DEAR PUBLIC," with the song-writing Irving Caesar making his debut as the producer of a new musical featuring Milton Green, John Buckmaster, Tamara, Joe Smith, Cora Witherspoon, Charles Dale, the Reverses, Rose Brown, the Martins and April Ames Caesar and Charles Gottfried collaborating on the libretto, and Caesar and Gerald Marks and Samuel Letzer are responsible for the music. One week.

PLYMOUTH—"TOBACCO ROAD," can be announced.

MARCH 16

COLONIAL—"WATCH ON THE RHINE," with Herman Shumlin presenting Lillian Hellman's prize-winning drama with a two-week engagement with the original cast including Lucille Walter, Paul Lukas, Mady Christian, George Chakos and John Lodge. This is a Theater Guild-American Theater Society subscription play.

SOON BUT WHEN?

"HELLEZ PUPPIN," the Ole Olsen-Che Johnson musical of a musical comedy, is due for a return engagement at the Shubert with Jay Rippen and Happy Felson substituting in the roles vacated in favor of the second edition, the Broadway smash hit, "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying."

"LOUISIANA PURCHASE," Budley Brinsley's successful musical comedy with William Gaxton, Victor Moore, Zeffie and Irene Bordoni, is due to pause for a fortnight, possibly at the Shubert in the mid-February future. Musical by a De Sylva book and an Irving Berlin score.

Athletes Rush to 'Front'

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
Distributed by International News Service

A LOT of our more noble athletes are rushing valiantly to the front as boxing instructors and physical experts.

MOST OF THEM are like the old-time fighter who was feinting and stabbing his opponent out of position.

FROM HIS CORNER his seconds encouraged him with "atta boy, Killer. Give him a boxing lesson—"

JUST THEN the annoyed opponent clipped the Killer on the kisser and down he went.

AND FROM the Killer's corner came the rest of the advice—"And take one yourself."

Beauty

MAYBE YOUR LEGS aren't quite as symmetrical as Dorothy Lamour's... she has swapped her sarong for a sun-suit today... but at least you can simulate her golden tan with a new leg-stick that not only gives them a smooth, bronze finish but flatters their contours as well. Your winter vacation can be made completely happy by this inexpensive magic wand... I shall tell you where to get it if you write or phone.—ARLINE GOULD.

THIS LEG-STICK GIVES YOU A REAL SUN-TAN

By ARLINE GOULD

ONCE UPON a time only rich people went South for the winter. Today, however, even a poor working girl can manage, by vacation budgeting, to take her two weeks with pay in February and enjoy the luxury of Florida's sun-drenched beaches.

The southward migration has caused our designers to alter their ways.

And, of course, the cosmeticians have not been sleeping. One of the best of their contributions to the cause should go into the traveling case of every southbound gal.

It's a leg-stick that turns your legs a golden beige, and gives them a smooth, satiny finish.

There's something indecently naked, these days, about pallid legs under a bathing suit or shorts. If you tan easily, you only have to suffer your unhappiness about your milk-white pins for the first few days on the beach... but those few days are the ones in which you get acquainted—or don't!

For the girl who doesn't tan, this is a "must." Now she doesn't have to use expensive sun-tan make-up on her legs and stay out of the water for fear it will wash right off.

This stick stays on wonderfully, and it covers tiny flaws. With it you paint an inch-wide swath over your legs and thighs, and presto, you no longer look as if you'd spent the winter in a dark closet.

It is a good deal like the grease-paint used in the theater, but it is definitely not greasy. It is smooth and dull, and looks exactly like a slick, even tan bestowed on you by Old Sol.

For only a dollar you can buy this stick, which is good for 30 full applications, and that's enough for your whole stay in the tropics.

Arline Gould will tell you the shop which carries this leg-stick if you telephone her at Liberty 4000, week-days except Saturdays, or write, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope, to her at the Boston Evening American.

NEWS FOR MODERN WOMEN

FOOD

By Martha Lee

THIS LENTEN SEASON do your bit for family morale by resolving that on the days you have to serve fish, you will make such dinners as attractive and appetizing as possible and keep within your budget at the same time.

Serving delectable fish meals isn't the problem today that it once was. Nowadays, the fleeting fresh-from-the-ocean flavor that used to be exclusive joy of shore dinners is available no matter how many hundreds of miles you live from the surf line. The answer is in quick-frozen seafood.

The scientific process under which fish is frozen today seals in fresh flavor as well as vitamins and minerals right near the docks where the fishing boats come in.

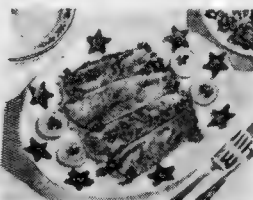

All the tasks of cleaning and filleting are done before the cold is applied, too, so you can count on one pound of quick-frozen cod filets to equal three pounds of uncleaned market fish.

GARNISHING FISH

The basic arts of garnishing and favoring have built the fame of many a seashore resort chef. And one of the first chef's rules to remember when tackling fish cookery is that butter should be just melted, never allowed to cook. Parsley should be put on fish just as it is going to the table, so that it will be crisp and fresh. Any chopped pickle relish will be a tastier garnish if you heat the relish slightly before sprinkling over the fish as it rests on the platter just before serving.

Remember that cole slaw is a special flavor affinity for fried fish and is a tempting accompaniment for broiled and baked fish, too. You can vary its flavor and appearance by adding chopped red and green peppers or by using half white and red cabbage.

And here's a chef garnishing trick that's easy for home cooks to copy. Cut boiled potatoes in shapes with cookie cutter, then

QUICK-FROZEN FILLETS for Lenten meals.

Pan fry them crisp and brown and use as a decorative border for your fish platter. Beets cut in stars are also decorative.

FROZEN VEGETABLES

You'll be sure of tempting variety if you choose quick-frozen vegetables to round out your

Lenten menus. They're an easy treat, for all the work of cleaning and sorting is done before quick-freezing is applied. They cook in half the usual time and they have extra quotas of vitamins and minerals that used to be lost by exposure to air on the trip from field to market. To preserve their high vitamin content, it's best to cook them according to directions on the cartons in a small amount of water.

BROILED FILLET OF HADDOCK

Use 1 package quick-frozen filets of haddock (frozen or thawed). Separate filets, sprinkle with softened butter, and sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika. Place on well-greased broiler and broil 12 to 18 minutes, turning to brown both sides. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

FRIED FLOUNDER

Use 2 packages quick-frozen fillet of flounder (frozen or thawed). Separate filets and roll in seasoned flour. Fry in small amount of cooking oil in heavy iron skillet 8 to 10 minutes, turning to brown both sides. Place on hot platter, pour almond sauce over fish, and sprinkle lightly with lemon juice. Garnish with parsley and slices of lemon. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

ALMOND SAUCE

Add ½ cup finely shredded blanched almonds to 6 tablespoons of melted butter in a skillet; heat over medium flame, stirring constantly until almonds are delicately browned.

Fashion

WITH BOSTON'S first blackout scheduled for tomorrow night, this seems an appropriate fashion suggestion for today... a siren suit by William Bloom. The siren suit idea came out of England, where the sound of the siren means jumping out of bed, into something to cover you, and dashing for the shelter. This one is worn by CBS actress Ann Eden, who is drawing her black saten lined Glosheen drapes for the night. The suit of gabardine has an action back, split from yoke to waistline for ample freedom and covered by a surplice which ties in front. It has long sleeves for warmth and big pockets for the equipment needed in a shelter. Let's hope we won't need it for air raids, but it would be a grand lounging outfit anyhow.—ANNICE BRINK.

STRIPES INVADE SPORTS WORLD IN VICTORY DRIVE

By BETTINA BEDWELL

FASHIONS continue to prove every day that they can, and do continue to move on, even in wartime, and one of the styles that is getting around is the one for stripes on sports clothes.

Every Spring collection of active sports clothes I have seen make a big point of striped materials. Striped skirts with sweaters are made for bowling, striped blazers are show with skirts for general sports, and striped shirts with shorts are important too.

The striped swim suit, sketched by Miss Duhin, is another item that is having success. Tina Leser makes the two-piece model shown here of navy and white striped material, and with it is a short coat of golden yellow corduroy cut like a shirt and a coarse straw hat. The beach handbag is lined with oiled cloth.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, MONDAY, FEB. 16, 1942

Nova Likely to Get Conn Bout

ALONG BROADWAY after Billy Conn won a sick looking duke over Tony Zale . . . Jimmy Johnston stating that Billy Conn's greatest ring asset was his speed, and asserting that he showed he has lost it as he hooked and stabbed his way to a victory over Zale . . . Johnston adding that his Bob Pastor will be prepared to hand Conn a setback following his Cleveland tussle with Lem Franklin.

Jack Dempsey getting ready to leave for Baltimore where he will second Red Burman against Johnny Buckley's Johnny Skhor tonight . . . Jack Sharkey will be in Skhor's corner . . . It will be the first time that Dempsey and Sharkey have faced each other in opposing corners under any conditions since their famous fight in the Yankee Stadium in July, 1927.

Joe Howard, star of Billy Rose's Diamond Horseshoe, having lunch with Dempsey and this writer, and asking to be remembered to George Clark and George Holland . . . Dempsey presenting Howard with a $50 beaver hat which carried the label of a Boston store . . . Howard, past 70, manages to get in a radio program in addition to his performances at Billy Rose's spot.

A visit to Leon and Eddie's with Hy Hurwitz of the Boston Globe and Al Buck of the New York Evening Post . . . It was a New York farewell party to Hy who leaves for the South tomorrow . . . Not to report the training camp activities of the Red Sox and Braves, but to join up with the Marines at Paris Island . . . Leon, Tony Zale, Trainer Art Winch, Sam Plan and dozens of Broadway celebrities helped Hy sing. "We'll hold a wake for the Japs on Wake Island" . . . Hurwitz is one of the better Boston sports reporters with a flair for spot news stories . . . That is all over for the duration.

Harry Lenny, who managed numerous star boxers, informing me he has passed up the boxing game to devote all of his time to rebuilding the bodies of persons afflicted with infantile paralysis and arthritis.

"A Good Soldier"

Mike Jacobs of the Twentieth Century Club showing me a letter from Private Joe Louis Barrows' commanding officer . . . It read: "Joe Louis Barrows is as good a soldier as he is a boxer and a sportsman."

Mike added that some of the military people thought Louis would ask for special favors once he was inducted into service.

"Louis has not asked for a single favor," declared Mike proudly . . . "He wishes to be treated exactly the same as other boys in the service."

This is one of the reasons Louis was tendered such a tremendous ovation when he was introduced into the ring just before the Conn-Zale bout started. The American public appreciates Louis' willingness to make any sacrifice that is asked of him.

Billy Conn once more talking about entering Gene Tunney's naval service as a physical instructor . . . Tunney told me last summer that he offered Conn a rating as a junior lieutenant after his sensational bout with Joe Louis . . . Conn passed up the offer at the time he was planning to get married and go to Hollywood for a picture.

If Conn enters the naval service now he will not get a rating as a junior lieutenant . . . The ear has changed everything . . . Also Joe Louis who enlisted as a private . . . The best Conn can now hope for in the way of a rating is one as a petty officer.

One colored newspaper in New York says Joe Louis should be made a general and placed in charge of a colored division . . . The "Brown Bomber" frankly says he would not wish such a post as he has not had the necessary military experience . . . He wants to work his way up in the ranks one step at a time when and if he shows the necessary qualifications . . . Louis has shown an example which every other athlete could well follow.

Lou Nova Again

Sol Gold (Goldie) saying that Mike Jacobs has offered to match Conn with Lou Nova or Bob Pastor . . . with the chances in favor of Johnny Ray, Conn's manager, making his vote for Nova . . . The latter is big and slow and would be easy for Conn to hit.

The Zale bout proving to Conn it is not as easy to box small opponents as it is to battle heavyweights . . . Zale at 164 pounds says he lost some of his speed, and that he would get down to 158 pounds if he were meeting Conn again.

Tony telling me at Leon and Eddie's that he would volunteer for the Army or the Navy within three or four weeks . . . At 28 Zale is a perfect physical specimen.

New York automobile dealers offering high prices for used cars with low mileage . . . Many of the bright lights of other days out on Broadway . . . Folks unable to understand the burning of the Normandie, the escape of the German fleet from Brest and the collapse of the British at Singapore . . . Owners of night clubs complaining that the poor war news is hurting their business as New York becomes one of the gloomiest cities in America . . . As if night club business is of any importance with the world at war.

Service men everywhere on leave and making the best of their holidays, knowing there are difficult days ahead. We thought that a few victories in the war would give Broadway its old sparkle . . . Wake up, America!

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (AP)—The blight that has fallen across the paths of all the leaders in the National Hockey League this season now has fastened itself upon the New York Rangers, present pace-setters, who are in the throes of a three-game losing streak.

Brooklyn choked off the Blue Shirt scoring machine last night, 5 to 1. It was a low shot by Bryan Hextall at the end of a quick pass-play from Lynn Patrick and Phil Watson that kept intact the Rangers' mark of scoring in 91 contests since their last shutout.

BRUINS BLANKED

Despite Brooklyn's unexpected triumph, the Americans were unable to break the fifth place tie with Detroit as the Red Wings blanked Montreal, 6 to 0.

Sam Lopresti, the Chicago goalie, also scored a shutout, turning back the Boston Bruins, 2 to 0.

The weekend firing left the Rangers at the top of the heap with a narrow two-point advantage over the Bruins and Toronto Maple Leafs. Chicago is fourth, six points behind the leaders.

Hextall's goal was the first of the game and set off the furo for the Brooklyn barrage of three in the second and two more in the final canto.

Montreal, with hopes of passing both Brooklyn and Detroit in the standings, permitted only one goal in each of the first two periods but relaxed enough to give the Red Wings losers of four straight, three more in the final 20 minutes.

It was the fourth shutout of the year for Johnny Mowers and his second in a row at the expense of the Canadiens who were his 10 to 0 victims in their last previous game with Detroit.

HAMILL BEATS BRUINS

Red Hamill, the former Bruin, counted the tally that actually beat the Boston team at Chicago. He registered early in the first period, and the tight guarding Hawks made it stand up alone for 50 minutes before Bob Carse beat Frankie Brimsek just before the final buzzer.

Carse took the puck as Joe Cooper attempted to ice it during a Bruin charge upon the shorthanded Hawks. Carse broke with the disc and beat Brimsek cleanly.

Torgor Tokle Wins Michigan Ski Title

IRONWOOD, Mich., Feb. 16 (AP)—Torgor Tokle of Brooklyn, N. Y., was crowned Class A champion in the seventh annual open ski tournament held on Wolverine Hill here. He had jumps of 216 and 211 feet and his form was rated near perfect.

His first jump bettered the hill mark of 211 feet, set by the late Paul Bieltia of Ishpeming, Mich., in 1937. A crowd of 3000 watched Tokle dethrone Roy Bieltia, who placed seventh. The Ishpeming rider fell in a practice jump and wrunched his knee severely.

GIANTS START TRAINING

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 16 (AP)—Mel Ott, the new Giants' manager, greeted a squad of 10 battersmen here today as spring training began.

Optimistic over the Giants' prospects, Ott declared that "deals made during the winter have improved the club greatly."

Bingham Named as Aide In Navy Training Plan

Harvard's Bill Bingham has been named a member of an eight-man board to supervise the Navy physical training program that will produce some 30,000 aviation pilots, it was reported today.

Appointments to the board were made, the Harvard Crimson said this morning, by Rear Adm. John H. Towers, chief of the bureau of navigation.

Dr. Joseph Raycroft of Princeton is named as another member of the board.

YALE GRID JOB SHAUGHNESSY'S 'FOR TAKING'

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (INS)—Reports persisted today that Clark Shaughnessy, head football coach at Stanford University, was in New York to confer with Yale University officials anxious to sign him to guide the Elis' grid-iron fortunes.

Shaughnessy himself could not be reached for comment, but according to reports in eastern sports circles, the Yale coaching berth "is his for the taking."

Yale was left without a head coach when "Spike" Nelson resigned after a one-year tenure to join the nation's armed forces.

In New Haven, a thorough canvass of athletic circles failed to develop any concrete news regarding the Shaughnessy rumor, but one usually reliable university source declared "it is probably true" that conversations either have been held or will be held between Shaughnessy and Yale officials.

Shaughnessy went to Stanford two years ago from the University of Chicago where the latter school dropped intercollegiate football in his first year with the Indians led his squad into the Rose Bo Z.

Warmerdam Home; Eyes on M'Mitchell

By HERB FINNEGAN

Cornelius Warmerdam was back in his California classroom today, and that 16-foot vault which he was not far from at the B. A. A. meet, probably will remain a dream for years to come. Warmerdam admitted as much before he flew back to resume his teaching duties.

"This is the ideal spot for creating pole vault records," he said at the Garden after breaking all existing records with his 15 foot, 7 1/2 inch leap. "Wind conditions outdoors some times hinder a vaulter."

Warmerdam may never come east again. He had a short vacation from his teaching role, and during that time he cleared 15 feet 7 1/2 inches at the Millrose games, then came on to Boston to put on his cloud-piercing act.

Well, with Warmerdam idle, where next can we look for a record of equal proportions? No farther than 21-year-old Les MacMitchell probably.

MacMitchell didn't run convincingly here as he took the Hunter Mile (4:11.8) for the second straight year, but that was mainly because he had run a 4:08 mile only two nights before in New York.

CAPABLE OF 4:02 MILE

"Had no lift," he said after the race. "Felt heavy all the way. Never had to work harder than I did to pass Rafferty."

That was natural. Two slashing miles in three nights may be all right for an older campaigner like Rice and Cunningham used to be, but MacMitchell is hardly mature enough for such a stunt. However, give him sufficient rest between races, and nobody in the world will touch him at the mile.

"He's running better than he did a year ago," said Emil Von Eling, coach of the N. Y. sensation. "Knows how to pace himself now. He ran out and run a front race this year whereas last winter he was lagging back, depending on his kick at the finish to win."

Would he accept the invitation to run at Dartmouth and go after Glenn Cunningham's 4:04.4 mark? "It's early to talk about it," said Von. "but if he goes through the rest of his schedule acceptably, I'll let him take a crack at it."

Tommy Greenwood, MacMitchell's coach in high school and a close friend of Von Eling's, was more enthusiastic.

BUSY CAMPAIGN

"He wasn't himself tonight," said Tommy after the race (referring to MacMitchell). "He just ran to win. But I want to say he never ran a better race than he did Thursday night in the Metropolitan Intercollegiate."

"I honestly believe if he had run a similar mile at the fast Dartmouth track his time would have been 4:02. I'm perfectly sincere about it."

"He came down with a cold just before the Millrose," Tommy went on, "and wasn't up to par. Yet he won it in 4:11.8. If he could have run a Millrose as he did in the Met Intercollegiate, he would have set up a new world competitive record easily. His last half was faster than his first. Yes, sir, he was 2:04.4 at the half, then came home in 2:03.8. Some flying."

"Understand it 4:08 mile in the Mets was run on a track used by midsize automobiles. The Garden track is faster."

(The world's competitive record is 4:07.4, held jointly by Chuck

Les MacMitchell Greg Rice

Fenske, Cunningham and MacMitchell himself.)

MacMitchell has a strenuous campaign ahead. Next Saturday Baxter mile at the New York A. C. games, then the National A. A. U., then the intercollegiate.

Follow the New York K. C. games March 14 which promise the race of the year with Rice, Dodds and MacMitchell all meeting over the two-mile route. That hasn't been definitely agreed upon yet, but there is a good chance of it going through.

HIS LAST CHANCE

You see, MacMitchell will be going into the Army shortly, after his graduation from New York U. in June, and his coach figures he might as well let the kid take a shot at all the honors because there's no telling if he ever will leave on a shoe again after this year.

But he has a lot of running to get in before he goes after Cunningham's record at Dartmouth. He may feel more like hanging up his shoes than trying for any records late in March. But we'd like to see him at Dartmouth in the shape he was in last Thursday. If ever there's going to be a four-minute mile, we know of no one we'd rather see do it than the modest New York boy.

Week-End Sports

(The Associated Press) BOSTON—Cornelius Warmerdam vaulted 15 feet 7 1/2 inches, highest leap on record, at Boston's Garden today. He also cleared 15 feet 7 1/2 inches in the indoor mile race. Les MacMitchell, New York University, won Hunter Mile in 4:11.8 and Greg Rice cleared two-mile race in 8:51.4.

MIAMI—Alsbach, coach of 1931 finished out of money for second straight time as three-year-old, Bright Willie won Biscayne purse at Hialeah Park, doing the mile in record time of 1:36 2/5. Evening Standard won by Transit.

ORLANDO, Fla.—Pauline Lutz, Rollins College co-ed, defeated Dorothy May Bundy, 6-1, 6-0, in finale of Florida women's tennis singles tourney.

BOSTON—New England amateur golf championship, for 1942, was won by Portland, Me., dropped because of war.

IRONWOOD, Mich.—Torga Toke, former national ski champion, won seventh annual open meet with leaps of 216 and 211 feet.

KANSAS CITY—Kris Tipton, former Duke University football great, traded to Kansas City Baseball Blues by Newark Bears for outfielder Lloyd Christopher. Tipton also is an outfielder.

SPECIAL SIX FOR PACINO, CAPARELL

Larry Pacino and Jackie Caparelli, Roxbury residents, will fight a special six-rounder for the championship of that neighborhood next Friday night at Mechanics Building in one of the highlights of a Boston Boxing Ass'n show.

Matchmaker Jack O'Brien announced today that he has made this long-awaited match, a family fight practically which should lure all the boxing fans from the Roxbury section to the Huntington ave. hall.

"I'VE GOT TO WIN"

Pacino, most experts agree, is the foremost fistie prospect in New England. He cleaned up in amateur ranks, winning the coveted All-America title among others, and his career as a professional has been interrupted. Most of his pro fights have been one-round kayo wins.

Despite this Caparelli is given a solid chance of victory. Jackie has the edge in experience, and he'll be shooting the works Friday night to uphold his reputation in Roxbury.

"Won't be able to hang around with the boys if Pacino beats me," remarked Caparelli when the match was made. "This is one I've got to win."

WILSON VS. DENNER

This Pacino-Caparelli "natural" will highlight the supporting card of the Boston B. A. show in which Jackie Willie, featherweight champion of the world, comes here from Pittsburgh to clash in the 10-round feature with Abe Denner, West End, uncrowned 126-pound champion of New England.

Boston is likely to witness its flashiest feathercrisp since the old days when Sammy Fuller, Andy Callahan, Chick Suggs, Honeyboy Finnegan and Red Chapman made the 126-pound division the most popular of all with local ring addicts.

In the eight-round semi-final Leo DuImaine, Marlboro, meets Young Byron, Roxbury. Three other bouts will be on the program.

'Reds by 17 Games' Rookie Predicts

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 16 (AP)—Ray Starr, Cincinnati pitcher, predicted today his club would win the National League pennant this year by 17 games.

Curfew 1 A. M. At Dempsey's

--Or Else!

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (AP)—A couple of guests who objected to leaving Jack Dempsey's apartment were treated at Roosevelt Hospital for cuts and bruises.

Brothers Frank and Salvatore Puglisi thought I. A. M. was too soon for a party at Dempsey's to break up, police reported. They were deposited in the hall outside, neighbors called police, and an ambulance came.

Told that Frank might have a broken jaw, Dempsey snorted. "Can't be," he said. "Absolutely couldn't be. I just slapped 'em around a little bit."

Alsb Needs More Work, Says Owner

By STANMORE CAWTHORN

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 16 (AP)—Despite Alsb's second humiliating defeat in as many starts as a 3-year-old, owner Al Sabath is "not one bit discouraged" about his 1941 juvenile champion.

"He needs more work, there's no question about that," said Sabath after Alsb had finished a poor fourth in a $1500 race. "However, I don't believe we'll start him again before the Flamingo. I'm not one bit discouraged or worried about him—he was unimpressive at this time last year but improved fast once he hit his stride. I believe he'll do the same again."

There was little doubt in the minds of most of the 15,845 who saw Alsb's latest effort that he would have to show sharp improvement to become a factor in the $25,000 Flamingo Feb. 28.

The startled crowd, which had installed him a 3 to 4 choice at the betting windows, watched in unbelieving dismay as last year's wonder horse failed completely Saturday to show the driving stretch run that made him famous.

Jockey Eddie Arcaro brought him out of the chute well and eased him along to the far turn, but when the time came to turn on the heat Alsb simply wasn't there.

Mrs. R. McIlvaine's Bright Willie won the race easily in the record time of 1 minute, 36.5 seconds for the mile. Sir War was second, incoming third and Alsb fourth—seven lengths off the pace.

There was considerable difference of opinion among racing men about Alsb's two consecutive losses.

Some said they thought the horse needed a longer rest from a strenuous two-year-old campaign in which he won his last 10 starts. But there were many who agreed with Sabath that he would improve in future races.

38 March Skiing deal In Northern N. E.

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

PICO PEAK, Rutland, Vt., Feb. 16—High in the Green Mountains of Vermont in Sherburne Pass, under the shadow of towering

Deer Leap, lies Long Trail Lodge, only a few minutes by skis from the famous Pico Peak development. Our abode for the weekend, this place fairly permeates skiers' congeniality and the atmosphere of friendliness.

Opened four winters ago, business at the Lodge is now the best it ever has been, with capacity bookings until March.

Why more people do not make plans to go skiing in March is beyond us, for this is the month when the sun and snow are at their very best everywhere in the Northern New England.

THE PICO PIKERS

Managing the Lodge is tall and lean Grover Wright, who has been running this hostelry for the past ten years. This place is also the headquarters of the Green Mountain Club, which has 1200 members throughout the country.

An expert skier, Grover is a charter member of that unique club known as "The Pico Pikers." Querying him about this odd name, he told us he entertained a party of fellows from the mid-west two years ago.

It was here they were first introduced to our delightful New England custom of hot buttered rum after skiing.

In a spirit of fun the boys would hold mock board to determine their "liquid assets," and chip in toward a fund for butter and stuff. The result was the forming of this club for the good fellowship of it. Most of the members will meet again this season at the lodge.

Thirty miles of winding cross-country trails have been laid around Pico Peak by the Green Mountain Club.

This phase of the sport is encouraged here, but more skiers should try it if they desire to enjoy the rugged Vermont scenery and terrain, at the same time developing their own stamina on skis.

RODDAY NEW TEACHER

Among the many guests at the Lodge was John Rodday, a commercial photographer from Wakefield, Mass., who has gone in for the art of making ski movies. He produced a film last year titled, "Singing Skis," which consists entirely of winter scenes and skiing in New England.

We had long thought that someone should make a movie devoted primarily to New England skiing, and John has done a very good job. He is taking a lot of action shots this winter which he will add to his original film.

In need of an instructor to replace Bill Chapin who has been primarily to New England skiing, and John has done a very good job. He is taking a lot of action shots this winter which he will add to his original film.

This lad is an excellent ski teacher, a student of form, and a daring racer. He has won many contests, including the New Hampshire Slalom Championship three seasons ago.

"Nick" started his skiing career at New Hampton prep school, where he starred in all four events on his slippery skis.

DERBY SKATERS IN SPOTLIGHT AT WALPOLE

The Record-American Silver Skates Derby was well represented in the Eastern States Speed Skating Championships at Turners Lake in Walpole.

Lloyd DesRoches, of Providence, former Silver Skates champion, and one of the foremost speed skaters in the East, looked like a true champion in coping four of the six events.

Carmelita Landry, foremost woman speed skater in North America, displayed brilliant form in winning the 440 and 880-yard events. Miss Landry is also a graduate of the Silver Skates ranks.

The festivities of the day were not confined to racing competition alone as some of the finest figure skaters in the East were present for exhibitions.

Foremost among these, was pretty 12-year-old Jane Weiss, who appeared in the Silver Skates Derby last month.

Other figure skaters rendering exhibitions were: Mary Barbara McDonough and Sally Davenport of Skidmore; Nadine Kaler, Sharon, and Doris Schubach and Walter Noffke, the national junior pair champions.

Olympics Limp Home

Coach Hago Harrington and his Olympics hockey team, two weeks ago the class of the Eastern League and pacing the loop with six points over New York and 10 over the Johnstown Blue Birds, returned home today from their worst road trip of the year.

When the team left the Hub a week ago, it was on top with a 4-point lead, but today the Boston entry not only is tied by the Rovers but the Blue Birds as well. But that is mainly because four of their best men were drafted by the Bruins.

When they dropped their fourth straight road game last night to Johnstown, 6-1, and the Rovers split a doubleheader with Baltimore, the three teams went into a first place deadlock.

Johnstown smacked the O's for the second time in as many days. The night before, with Vic Polich back in the cage for the first time since he was deferred by his local draft board in Hingham, Minn., the Pies were smothered by the Birds, 9 to 2.

While on the road the past week the Pies were able to garner but one point. That was the tie game with Baltimore. Following the Orioles' deadlock they dropped successive verdicts to Washington, Atlantic City and two to Johnstown, all by big scores.

BRUINS FACE KRAUTS IN OTTAWA EXHIBITION

By BILL GRIMES

After playing the Blackhawks in Chicago last night, the Bruins jumped directly to Ottawa, Ont., where they are to meet the Royal Canadian Air Force in a charity game tomorrow. The Krauts will give their former mates plenty of trouble if they are clicking as they were in the final N. H. L. game they played last Tuesday.

Commr. William P. Long of the Boston Park Department, and Mrs. Long will leave here with the Braves two weeks from Monday. Apparently Bob Quinn has a deal in the making, for he isn't sure he'll be able to go to Sanford, Fla., with the first contingent. For the first time in his career as assistant trainer Johnny Orlando will make the trip to Sarasota by train. He will go with Jim Tabor, Johnny must get a new helper, however, for Freddie Stack has quit baseball. "Stackie" is working at the Army Base and wisely refused to give up his job.

Speaking of Freddie Stack recalls that Dickie Stack (not related to the former bat boy of the Red Sox), 18-year-old son of Johnny Stack, who has worked for Billy Delaney at the parks for years, enlisted in the U. S. Navy. Dickie has been a "hustler" at Fenway Park and Braves Field since he was big

Bing Crosby Bob Hope

Miami Beach. J. Raymond has never been down to anyone in a verbal clash.

Long John O'Donnell and one of his stable of golfers, Jim Mahoney, both of Woodland, are now squash players. At least, O'Donnell must be for he has agreed to give Mr. Mahoney ten points in a best two out of three match tilt and also has wagered $200 to $10 he's the victor. The match will start at the University Club. When and where it will finish remains to be determined.

Chief Petty Officer Bath, who is now attached to the First Naval District, remembers Teddy Williams of the Red Sox selling papers at San Diego naval base. Bath pitched for the naval station, and Teddy got three for three off him in the first game the lanky outfielder played against the sailors at the Golden Hills playgrounds.

It looks as if that three-cornered battle for fifth and sixth places in the N. H. L. race among Detroit, Americans and Canadiens will continue to the wire. In the upper bracket the Chicago Blackhawks is the club to watch.

Jim Tabor Wes Ferrell

enough to carry a basket. During the years he sold scorecards and peanuts, Dickie saved $250, and when he entered the service a week ago he drew out his savings and invested them in defense bonds. So hats off to Dickie Stack.

Bob Williams, the former Amherst southpaw who was sent to Hartford for seasoning, is in the wool business out in Dedham. He'll go South with the Stengelmans. Jim Tobin and Ernest Lombardi, who will leave Oakland, Cal., one week from next Friday, will pick up Long George Kelly, Manny Salvo, Lou East and Al Montgomery on route to Sanford. Including Casey Stengel and George Kelly, there are no less than 10 Braves wintering on the coast.

Bing Crosby and Bob Hope are touring Texas with the big pros. Freddie Cocoran wrote his brother Jim, executive secretary of the M. G. A. to go West and handle the movie stars' exhibition tour. But it required one week for the letter to arrive from Phoenix, Ariz., so John had an "out" . . . Don't let anyone tell you Wes Ferrell did all of the talking in that argument with Ray Lenahan at

WHIRLWAY'S TRAINER SIGNS FOR FLORIDA

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 16 (AP)—Trainer Ben Jones, who looks after Warren Wright's stable of 47 horses at Santa Anita Park, means softly whenever the name of Florida is mentioned.

If the lure of Santa Anita's $100,000 handicap hadn't been so strong Jones and the 1941 champion, Whirlaway, would have been in Florida with a lot to say about the $50,000 Widener Handicap.

As it is, the war has limited the bushy-tailed Whirlaway's efforts to practice spins.

"But you don't get to run very often for money like that," Jones sighs. "Whirlly is in great shape, though. This has been a wonderful winter season, insofar as the weather is concerned."

"I think Whirlly is in great shape and I fully expect him to pick up where he left off last year."

Jones may take Whirlaway to Phoenix, Ariz., when that track's season opens Feb. 28, but final decision rests with Owen Wright.

Good-Wins Renew Feud With Yankees

Boston Good-Wins and Harlem Yankees, who have played four overtime games in their six meetings in the past three years, will meet again at the Roxbury Memorial High School gym Wednesday night in the feature game of a twin bill.

The undefeated Harvard Medical School five clashes with Malden City Club in the preliminary.

Malden City will be strengthened materially by the addition of Johnny Mulken and Ivan Kelley, two of the best players in the history of Mission High School and St. Alphonsus, and Al Morochnick, All-Tech tournament forward from Chelsea High last year.

Open Swim Meet At South Boston

The second N. E. A. A. U. sanctioned open swimming meet will be held at the South Boston Clubhouse, Boys' Clubs of Boston, tomorrow night.

The senior N. E. A. A. U. 400-yard relay title for men will be at stake along with the Junior New England men's diving crown and the women's 440-yard freestyle junior championship.

Entries are already received from Olneyville Boys' Club, Providence Central Boys' Club, Charlestown Boys' Club and the Boston Y. M. C. A. crack relay teams.

Other events which will draw a large number of entrants are the open 100-yard freestyle handicap for men and the open 100-yard backstroke for men.

Bill Despres, who set a New England record in the 100-yard freestyle handicap and the backstroke event, is entered. Al Stepanovich of Pawtucket Boys' Club and Jim Doherty of the Roxbury Boys' Club will offer Despres some stiff competition in the open freestyle event.

Hernandez Leads In Sea Trout Derby

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Feb. 16 (INS)—Florida light-tackle expert Bertram Hernandez, Sr., today was holder of second and third round titles as the first annual sea trout derby entered its fourth and final lap.

The final round of the derby will end March 15, at which time grand prizes will be awarded, bringing to a close four months of competition.

Hogan Faces 'Birdie Kid' In Playoff

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 16 (AP)—Smiling Melvin (Chick) Harbert, a kid from Michigan playing his second year of professional golf, created a fantastic 30 on the final nine holes today to tie Ben Hogan in the Texas Open classic with 12-under-par 72-hole totals of 272.

Seven holes out on the Willow Springs course when Hogan finished with a 66 the Battle Creek better, lousied hair shading his eyes, birdied five of the next seven holes. Hogan had a 65 in the morning round.

On the home hole, with packed thousands around the green, Harbert stroked his first putt from 30 feet and left himself three feet above the cup. Quickly he stepped up and hit the bull-eye.

The money finishers included:

PAULINE BETZ NET WINNER

ORLANDO, Fla., Feb. 16 (AP)—Pauline Betz of Rollins College retained her grip on women's tennis circles here when she turned back her school mate, Dorothy Mack Bundy, 6-1, 6-4, in the finals of the ladies' singles matches of the Florida amateur championship.

Miss Betz again exhibited the ability which won her the national ranking of No. 2 women's player. Only once was she in trouble in the second set, when Miss Bundy led 4-3. After that it was clear sailing.

Jim Windham, up and coming Orlando youngster, gave George Lyttelton-Rogers, Irish Davis Cup star, a thorough scare before the lanky expert won, 6-4, 6-2, in the men's singles final.

JAPS TAKE SUMATRA OIL BASE

Jap Bomb Did This—The successful action carried out by the U. S. Pacific fleet in attacking Jap bases in the Gilbert and Marshall islands resulted in some damage to the American ships . . . but it was slight compared to that inflicted on the foe. A Jap bomb caused this hole in a U. S. warship . . . but crew members repaired the damage shortly.

Job Done

This pilot took part in the raids on Jap-held Marshall and Gilbert islands. He's shown back aboard his ship on his way to report to the commanding officer. Crew members clear away debris behind him.

Bomb Hit

This motor whaleboat, attached to one of the U. S. warships that raided the Jap mid-Pacific bases, was damaged by an enemy bomb. Our Navy destroyed 16 Jap ships, including a cruiser and 17,000-ton liner.
